More Rain Is Due Here Tomorrow

THIS WAS a typical scene all over Contra Costa County this week as residents tried to cope with the torrential downpours. The problem got worse as the week progressed.

THIS WAS JUST the beginning of the trouble. Taken on Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette, this scene is typical of practically every street and road in the county. Flooding was not the only problem, as damage was incurred from mud slides and collapsing banks. Sun photos by Bob Yost.

Weather Bureau Not Certain of Storm Intensity

There's another storm on the way—but its effect on the central county area won't be known until tonight or tomorrow.

That was the official word from the U.S. Weather Bureau in San Francisco yesterday.

The storm that dumped brief, but intensified showers on the area Thursday was to subside last night.

Today's forecast called for more rain, but in a smaller amount than yesterday. The showers predicted for today were expected to be "light."

The weather bureau said the new storm was brewing out in the Pacific and that it was heading our way.

SANDBAGS

The county will not provide sandbags for individual home use. If your home is in danger and sandbags will help, call the County Disaster Office, AC 8-5000. They will direct you to the location nearest your home where sandbags can be procured.

OFFICIALS predicted that the intensity of the storm will probably increase as it nears the California coast, but they could Hospital Is 'Over The Top'!

The local drive to raise funds for the 150-bed John Muir Hospital is "over the top," and construction of the hospital with the aid of federal and state funds is assured, according to Alfred Layton, drive chairman.

The most recent figures on money collected were being prepared as The Sun went to press, but Layton said that it is likely that the local money will be sufficient.

The $4 million hospital will be built with about $2½ million in state and federal funds under the Hill-Burton grant, some $1,200,000 in loans and the balance in locally-raised cash.

"IT IS needless of me to stress the necessity for those who have pledged gifts to the hospital to pay their pledges as promised. Otherwise, we will not have sufficient funds available when the time comes to build the hospital," said Layton.

Although the requirements of the Hill-Burton act have been met, and outside aid is guaranteed, not all of the $300,000 set as the original local goal has been raised, Layton said.

"We therefore ask all who have not yet contributed to send in their contributions or pledges so the indebtedness of the hospital may be reduced and so that we may have some reserve, should bids for construction exceed estimates," said Layton.

The hospital, to be located on Ygnacio Valley Road just east of Walnut Creek, prompted a local fund campaign in 1959-60, and also the second campaign which concluded yesterday, the deadline for qualifying for the Hill-Burton grant.

The $1,200,000 long-term bank loans have been arranged with Bank of America, Bank of California, Wells Fargo and Crocker-Anglo banks.

THERE WERE about 5000 pledges and contributions.

Gifts of $1000 or more were received from Tidewater Oil, Shell Oil, P. G. & E., Crown Zellerbach, Friden, U.S. Steel, Dow Chemical, Montgomery Ward, Sears, Safeway Stores, Lucky Stores, Hagstrom Food Stores, Bank of America, Bank of California, Wells Fargo, Crocker-Anglo and United California banks, and Confer-Anderson, the hospital architects.

The present trustees of the hospital personally contributed $29,400 in addition to serving without remuneration.

Detailed drawings and specifications will be completed in time for submission of the project for bids next January, and construction will start in March, next year, said Layton.

INVOLVED in arrangements are the bureau of hospitals, the surgeon general and hospital architects.

Construction will require about 18 months.

Stay Away From Sick Animals!

"Because of the danger of rabies, parents and children living in the Orinda-Lafayette area of Contra Costa County are again warned not to handle or have any direct contact with any sick or dead animal of unknown origin, especially skunks," John Baier, M.D., assistant county health officer, announced today.

Contra Costa County's sixth case of animal rabies this year has been diagnosed in skunks, four of which have been found in the Orinda area.

Two Orinda youths found a pair of dead skunks recently and took them home intending to stuff them as an experiment in taxidermy.

Fortunately the parents of one of the boys, realizing the danger of possible rabies infection, sent the animal carcasses to the health department's laboratory. Examination of brain tissue specimens showed one of the skunks to be rabies-positive.

"Since three other rabid skunks have been identified in Orinda in the past two weeks, it appears possible that a rabies epidemic is now spreading through the wildlife in this area," Dr. Baier said. "Many other sick or dead animals may be seen in the next few weeks."

All residents of Contra Costa County, and especially those in the Orinda and Lafayette areas, are warned to be aware of the danger of rabies.

The disease can be transmitted to humans by a direct bite or indirectly from saliva of a rabies-infected animal.

Rabies is a fatal disease. Once it develops in humans, as well as in animals, there is no effective treatment available and death always results.

Sun Wins Statewide Top Award

First place honors were awarded to The Sun Saturday for best community relations and newspaper promotion in competition with large weeklies through the entire state for 1961.

Announcement of the first place award in the California Newspaper Publishers Association 1961 Better Newspaper contest was made by the awards committee in Coronado February 10.

Second place award went to the Van Nuys News. The Sun's entry included such things as the Man of the Year dinners, the shoplifting clinic, classified clinic, news writing clinic, father-son basketball night and Sun travel night.

Winning in competition with weeklies, circulation more than 3000, brings The Sun's awards to 29 national and state awards from the newspaper industry itself in recognition of outstanding presentation of news, community service and advertising.

The Sun has won the most awards of any paper, daily or weekly, for the past 10 years in the East Bay.

"We are deeply grateful for this honor," said Sun Publisher Herman Silverman on receiving notification of the award.

"We could not have won this honor without the cooperation of the people of this fine community," he continued. "Both our readers and our advertisers have helped to make this possible. I would also like to congratulate the hard-working members of our staff in all departments because they are the people who have put our ideas into reality and have produced a newspaper which the industry has felt worthy of honor."

No Law Prohibits Minors From Purchasing Guns, Ammunition

Did you know that legally your child, no matter what his age, can go to the nearest sporting goods store and purchase a rifle, or shotgun, and all the ammunition he wants?

Of course, the store owner may not sell him the material, but there is no law on the books that prevents a minor from purchasing any kind of rifle or shotgun, or any kind of ammunition.

The only exception is the City of Walnut Creek which has a municipal ordinance prohibiting any youngster under 16 years of age from buying ammunition, including BBs.

There is, however, a county ordinance concerning possession and shooting of firearms.

IT STATES that no minor under 16 years of age shall possess or use firearms of .22 calibre or greater, or air guns (which includes BB guns) except under the direct supervision and control of an adult.

Now, how about shooting guns? According to Unersheriff Harry Ramsay, there is really no place in the county where you can shoot. You cannot shoot within 150 feet of any dwelling. If you shoot on private property, you must have the owner's permission.

However, four sportsmen's clubs have joined to purchase a 22-acre range near Arnold Industrial Highway and Willow Pass Road which they will open to the public. These clubs include Walnut Creek and Concord Sportsmen's Clubs, Diablo Rod and Gun Club and the Bay Point Sportsmen's Club.

SIMILARLY, the state law does not offer any control over the purchase of guns and ammunition by minors. The only state law which applies is to concealable weapons, such as pistols, which cannot be sold anyone under 18 years of age.

And if you do purchase a pistol, you must wait three days before you can claim it from the store.

When asked if he would endorse a county ordinance prohibiting the sale of firearms or ammunition to minors, Ramsay said:

"I WOULD favor it with an understanding that some group or the county would sponsor a range where juveniles who are actually desirous of learning with the proper instructor and of advancing their technical knowledge of firearms."

Ramsay also said that although there is not a county ordinance against selling weapons to juveniles, he did not know of any dealer who would do so unless the youngster were accompanied by his parents.

Will Merchants Sell Guns, Ammo To Youngsters?

Although there is no law prohibiting the sale of rifles, shotguns or ammunition to minors, how do the people who handle the merchandise feel?

If your child were to go to the nearest sporting goods store, could he purchase a gun or ammunition?

Probably not—but maybe.

The Sun called some local sporting goods dealers to ask them if they would sell guns or ammunition to minors. Here are the replies:

Ed Boero of Boero's Sporting Goods, Walnut Creek: "We don't sell any firearms of any kind to anybody under 18, including BB guns, unless they are accompanied by their parents.

"There is a city ordinance against the sale of ammunition or BBs to anybody under 16 if they are alone. It is ok if the parents are along. We always write up the tag on a gun sale and have the adult sign, never the youngster."

Kurt Haase, Frontier Gun Shop, Lafayette: Under state law, a minor is not responsible for anything, his parents are. We just use our own ideas. If a kid is normal, not suspecious acting, we will probably sell it to him.

"If I have the least suspicion that something is wrong, I back off. I get inquisitive and start talking to him, or ask him if I can call his parents.

"Often I do, and it is all right. Sometimes it is not all right."

Eric James, Orinda Hardware: 'We will not sell guns to minors unless their parents are along. We will sell ammunition if their parents are with them or if they have a note."

Father in Favor of Law Change

William Cook, the father of the eight-year-old youngster who died last week as the result of a shooting accident, told The Sun this week that he would favor laws prohibiting the sale of guns and ammunition to children.

"I feel that the accident need not have happened," he said.

"There are laws to protect children in many areas, but none to protect them from buying guns and/or ammunition.

"They cannot buy cigarettes, alcohol or dangerous drugs. There should be a county ordinance—better yet a state law—prohibiting the sale of firearms and ammunition to anyone under the age of 18," said Cook.

He termed the accidential shooting of his son at the hands of a playmate a double tragedy, meaning the death of his son and the effect on the youngster holding the gun. "I've lost a son. He was a fine boy and I feel he would have contributed a lot to society," said Cook.

"If my efforts to have a law put into effect to protect children from themselves saves even one life, it will be worth the effort," he said.

Postmaster Is Appointed to Chamber Board

Postmaster Laura Mallary of Orinda has been appointed a director of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, according to Kenneth Courtwright, president.

Mrs. Mallary will complete the unexpired term of Al Baer. Baer, who owned the Village Shoe Shop, resigned from the chamber when he moved his business to Oakland recently.

Dedication of the new Post Office is planned for April 28. Mrs. Mallary told the chamber directors that the move from the old quarters will take place between March 15 and April 1.

As sponsor of the dedication ceremonies, the chamber will appoint a committee to plan the program. Courtwright will be master of ceremonies at the event.

Another Executive Session Set by Board

Another secret "executive" session will be held by trustees of the Contra Costa Junior College District Tuesday night at their Court Street offices in Martinez, it was announced after an executive session Monday night.

Board President William Kretzmer said he had no comment on the discussions held between the trustees and various groups involved in the future study of the district's "personnel" problem under the auspices of the Personnel Standards Commission.

For more than two hours, the trustees conferred with representatives of the California School Administrators, the California Teachers Association and the California School Boards Association.

These groups will be represented on the survey team to be established by the Personnel Standards Commission.

The investigation was ordered by the trustees after controversy developed over Superintendent Drummond McCunn's actions in past years as an administrator, and his comments offering qualified support of the John Birch Society.

A similar study in 1959 was critical of McCunn, but it was not ordered by the board, nor was it approved by the board.

On Monday night, the trustees also conferred among themselves for more than an hour.

Present during the general discussion were McCunn and directors Karl Drexel of Diablo Valley College and George Faul of Contra Costa College.

Board members Fred Abbott, Harmon Howard and Glenn Clemetson attended. Trustee George Gordon has been seriously ill, and has not attended recent meetings.

GOP Women Plan Educational Talk March 7

Mrs. Robert E. Galbraith, program chairman, Orinda Republican Women's Club announces as the club's March 7 speaker, Sven Groennings. Title of his talk is "Developing the Educational Function of the Republican Party." The meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Orinda Community Church.

Sven Groennings is a local man, having graduated from Acalanes High School. He received his MA degree from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in Boston and expects to receive his PhD in political science from Stanford this June.

He was a Fellow of the American-Scandinavian Foundation, having studied one and a half years in the Norwegian Parliament. He subsequently authored a book on Norwegian political parties.

Texts Hit by McCunn

By NORMAN COLBY

Criticism of a social science textbook and an anthropology textbook on the basis of their authors' backgrounds was recently made by Drummond McCunn, superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District.

His criticisms were not based on "content," McCunn explained to both campus faculties during separate sessions.

McCunn spoke to the Contra Costa College faculty in San Pablo on January 29 and to the Diablo Valley College faculty on January 30.

McCUNN'S comments were of special interest to the faculty members since the college board of governors has approved a re-evaluation of textbooks adopted for the next school year, and that study is due for completion by this June.

McCunn said there may be up to 10 basic textbooks for the required course, "Social Science 110," and one of them is authored by a man with many listings of communist front activities.

And this book has a bibliography which includes another author with many communist affiliations, said McCunn.

He outlined his beliefs about the dangers of textbooks favoring socialism, recalled that age 12 or 13 his father warned him against "creeping socialism" and added " . . . since 1936 I have been interested in textbooks."

McCUNN also said he has not been successful in teachers to give a definition of a textbook, and referred to two books used in classes as outside that category.

McCunn said he was glad Samuelson's book on economics had been deleted from the college textbook list, and noted it really belongs in the library, where the reading is not required for a course.

Another book, a district text on anthropology, was attacked by McCunn. He said both its authors have a long record of communist affiliations.

The reading of the book itself does not turn up communist teachings, but the bibliography at the end has authors with communist affiliations, he said.

McCunn repeated several times that textbooks which he considered injurious to American principles might be kept in the library, where they may be read voluntarily, but not as required reading.

THE NOVELS "Grapes of Wrath" and "Catcher in the Rye" brought McCunn to wonder if they should be considered as "textbooks" and used as such in classrooms.

He called several times for a definition of a textbook, and suggested displays in the libraries of all "teaching aids," adding that the public has become intolerant of the "secrecy of the classroom."

McCunn also referred to a number of derogatory remarks made about him by faculty members, and complained that such remarks have been made without documentation.

He suggested that teachers are asking that the district board and administration be investigated, and added that perhaps some faculty members or teacher groups should be investigated.

ACTUALLY, several board members agree with him in his textbook stand, but they have preferred to keep silent on the matter, said McCunn.

During the question period following the Diablo Valley faculty session, McCunn was asked if he would approve of using a textbook in logic by Nikita Khrushchev if it were the best text available. McCunn replied he would approve only if it were the best book.

McCunn to another question added that a teacher should be able to document his reasons for favoring a certain textbook, but added that sometimes expert opinion by a teacher should stand by itself.

During the question session at Contra Costa College, McCunn declined to state how many "questionable" books he has in mind, but added that the number is not large.

TO ANOTHER question about the Samuelson economics text, he noted that many parents have complained about it.

McCunn told the Contra Costa faculty not to feel sorry for him on the textbook issue, adding that he has been involved in it for years, including his term on the Los Angeles County Board of Education.

Hatchet Days Coming: You'll Save Money!

Get out your wallet—or your your purse!

Grab the family savings and prepare to save yourself some money.

Area merchants, in honor of George Washington's Birthday next Thursday have agreed to take the hatchet to prices.

They will present area-wide Hatchet Days next Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

This will be your chance to take advantage of unusual bargains in every field of merchandising.

And, incidentally, you might check The Sun Shopping News next Wednesday which will carry valuable information for you on where the bargains are to be had.

You will also find the information in your Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun, Walnut Creek Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun next Friday.

Sun Will Sponsor Rifle Safety Night Feb. 26

Parents, are you concerned over the possibility that one of your youngsters might be involved in an accident involving guns—or that one of his friends might get hold of a gun and your child would suffer because somebody didn't know what to do with a rifle or pistol?

Well, we've got an answer for you. The Sun, in cooperation with the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, will hold a Sun Father-Son Rifle Safety Night at Acalanes High School Monday, February 26.

The meeting will be held in the cafeteria at 8 p.m.

THE PROGRAM will be provided by Bill Collins of the sportsmen's club, and Jim Monk, president of the club.

Both men are experienced in teaching hunter - safety courses which are required before a minor can get a hunting license. They will discuss rifle safety and provide slides to illustrate some of the problems involved.

WHY NOT plan to come and bring your youngsters? The program will only last an hour so that youngsters will not be kept out too late.

Information will be available at the meeting on where and when further training for youngsters or adults may be obtained.

Miramonte Mirror

Blizzard or Rain, Neither Dampen Teens' Morale

By KITTY MIKA AND ANN LINCOLN

Three days of bliss were enjoyed by Miramonte students last weekend. The birthday of one of our greatest presidents was certainly appreciated and enjoyed to the fullest.

Friday at noon, a certain group of boys got a brilliant idea —they decided to take over the Senior Lawn. The result—a batch of rain-soaked, mud-splattered guys.

Las Lomas turned out to be too much for the Matadors on Friday night. The boys played a good game, especially Bruce Nickerson, but they couldn't quite match the Knights.

NEVERTHELESS, plenty of guys and gals turned up at the St. Stephens dance following the game. Quite a few of the seniors there seemed to be in unusually good moods. Some of the many dancing and talking were Laure Christie and Rich Vivrette, Linda Sears and Jake Jacobsen, Judy Hopkins and Mike Rolley, Charlie Brock and Lani Freeman, Pat Campbell and Doug Rasmusson, and Barbie Brush and Clint DeWitt.

Sherry Odenthal had a small get-together after the game for a few senior girls. The girls, including Nancy Bregar, Pat Kelly, Linda Sears and Linnet Trefts, spent half the night recording on the tape recorder, and then playing it back, and the rest of the time trying to play a trick on a certain sleeping beauty. The slumbering they managed to squeeze in didn't amount to much.

STEVE MILLER, Dwight Thompson and Grigg DeWitt spent Friday night parking cars for a party the Millers had. It seems it was quite a rewarding evening, seeing as the guests gave generous tips.

The Miramonte basketball team took a trip up to Fall River last weekend to play a game on Saturday night. Naturally, they would pick Lassen County which happened to get more rainfall than any other county in California last weekend.

A few souls spent a very white, wet weekend up in the Sierra. Mary Baker planned on three days of fabulous skiing, but as it turned out she never put her skies on. There were only a very few hardy souls braving the blizzard, and Mary wasn't among them.

Sharon Nielsen and Marjorie Hollidge also made their way to the mountains, but didn't find skiing on the agenda for the weekend, either. Sherry Odenthal and her friend from Kellys drove up to Dodge Ridge for the day on Sunday. They squeezed two runs in between the wet snow flurrys, and spent the majority of the time on the chair getting soaked.

We've come to the conclusion that skiing loses its charm when the snow is coming down like it did last weekend.

BACK TO Orinda where many were beginning to think the rain would never cease. In fact, we hear that someone drew up plans for an arc, and was even sending out the invitations—just hope you're among the chosen few that aren't left to drown in the deluge.

Saturday night Paul Locklin was in for a surprise—a party celebrating his 16th was held at the home of Scott Huntley. Among those there were Paul and Mimi Loomis, Scott and Julie Winkworth, Sue Hickox and Gary Griffiths, Karen Stafford and John Lackey, Jackie Villata and Doug Knudsen, Sue Fernsten and Den Hilger and Mary Hansen and Bill Hamilton.

Paul McChesney had a miniature party on Saturday night. He and Sue Nattress and Nancy Englehard and Brad Harlan sat around and talked, and Ron Jouthas dropped in for a few minutes.

Linnet Trefts and Steve Miller spent a fabulous evening in San Francisco Sunday. They enjoyed a delicious dinner at the Fairmont, and saw Nat King Cole, who was supposed to be just great. When the show was over with, Linnet was dying to go down the outside elevator, but the man wouldn't let them.

She was all ready to write a big long letter of complaint to the Fairmont Hotel. Pam Pearson and John Rielly were also at the show with John's parents.

We hear Jeff Miller is pretty proud of the new '50 Olds he just acquired.

According to quite a few teens, "Pocket Full of Miracles" is well worth seeing. Just a few of those who enjoyed it were Jane White and Dave Parish, Pat Canfield and Greg Peterson, and Kay Kielly and Dave Puttee.

Girl Scouts Plan Awards Court, International Party

Troop 204 of Girl Scouts is planning an international dinner and program preceding its Court of Awards Thursday in the multi-purpose room of the Inland Valley Intermediate School.

Members of the troop are: Barbara Cattolica, Cindy Cheney, Linda Christiansen, Donna Easterly, Barbara Gould, Debby Hopper, Alberta Koch, Linda Lawler, Kathy Montgomery, Christine O'Brien, Linda Pankonin, Maurey Parent, Carol Patterson, Gwen Reid, Virginia Van Gelder, Susan Van Sicklan, Maureen Weigand, Jill Winters, Laurie Winthers, Linda Boersma, Helene Trescony and Kathy Fisher. Mrs. Edward Winthers acts as adult leader of the troop, with Mrs. Gene Hopper and Mrs. Edward Patterson, co-leaders.

Recognizing February as Girl Scout International Month, each patrol will honor other countries by supplying a French, Italian and Mexican menu and have appropriate decor. As a senior troop, the girls plan a trip in 1964 to the International Girl Scout Cabana in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

To further acquaint their parents with their plans, the girls have invited a scout from outside our council to show slides and tell of her trip to the cabana and her reactions to international living during her stay. In support of all international events, the troop will collect their contributions to the Juliette Lowe World Friendship Fund following this part of the program.

A formal Court of Awards will be the highlight of the evening. There are 63 badges to be presented, and first class rank will be awarded to two members while 16 will receive curved bar, the highest rank that can be earned prior to senior scouting.

Girls receiving curved bars are: Barbara Cattolica, Linda Christiansen, Donna Easterly, Barbara Gould, Debby Hopper, Alberta Koch, Kathy Montgomery, Christine O'Brien, Linda Pankonin, Maurey Parent, Carol Patterson, Gwen Reid, Susan Van Sicklan, Maureen Weigand, Jill Winters and Laurie Winthers.

'Belle' Reigns At St. Mary's

For the first time in 99 years the student body of Saint Mary's College has a queen or rather "belle" reigning over it.

Lynn Moses, a sophomore English major at the University of California and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, was crowned "Belle of Saint Mary's" at the Gael-USF basketball game last Saturday night.

Lynn was sponsored by the Fine Arts Forum and escorted by club president, Richard Galli.

Pat Siefker of Lafayette was one of the queen's attendants. Miss Siefker is a junior at the University of California Medical School in San Francisco. She was sponsored by the Dante Club and escorted by Jerry Bachecki.

'I'd Love to Go Back,' Says Cindy Hillyer, AFS'er

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Pert 'n pretty Cindy Hillyer has just returned from four and a half months in Bieleseld, Germany, where she lived and studied with a German family as an American Field Service student.

Bieleseld, according to Cindy, is an industrial town in the middle of a farming area. Her German family included the father, Professor August Terdruggen, a doctor of pathology at the city hospital and part time instructor, his wife, and their daughter, Gesine, 18, who was Cindy's "sister." These four were home together most of the time.

In addition there was a brother Dietrich, 20, who attended a boarding school on an island in the North Sea and an older sister Illa, who worked as a physical therapist in Switzerland.

THESE TWO joined the family for a vacation in October and for Christmas and a 10-day ski trip in South Tyrol, Italy.

Cindy and Gesine attended a private school for girls which was run by Catholic nuns. "We had a six-day week," Cindy said, "with classes Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. We didn't have lunch periods as everyone went home for dinner . . . and it was dinner, the noon meal was always the largest one."

Cindy had six subjects a day, in 45-minute periods. Although a senior at Acalanes, Cindy entered the eleventh grade there as language was difficult at first.

"I had no previous instruction in German," Cindy replied. "I did attend a two-week language school in Cologne with the other AFS students, but two weeks doesn't exactly bring fluency."

THE FIRST month was difficult, as far as language was concerned, Cindy said, but after that she improved and by the time she left she could converse in German and express ideas. Luckily, her German family spoke English and when things became complicated they could translate for her.

Cheating in school in Germany is not looked down upon, according to Cindy, who added that cheating was considered as helping one's neighbor and was quite a frequent occurence in the classroom.

Christmas was a wonderful experience. Asked about the German Christmas Cindy exclaimed, "Oh, it was beautiful!"

She continued, "We had a nice green tree with real candles, my sister (German) was aghast at the thought of colored trees!

"Parents are the only ones to see the tree before Christmas. Traditionally the Christ Child is the one who fixes the tree, then a little bell is rung. The family (children) then troop in to where the tree is with their presents in hand.

GATHERED around the tree, the family opens presents, sings carols and drinks wine. Santa Claus for German children is called St. Kris and his appearance is December 6."

Professor Terdruggen and his family were together more as such than most American families, Cindy commented. "The family unit is very strong, they are most loyal to one another and do more together as a family," she added.

Dating, too, is a group activity, usually, Cindy related. "Actually I only had three dates such as we know here, while I was there," she recalled. "I was active in a group, there were parties, usually at someone's home, where we would get into great deep intellectual discussions."

The term teenager has a very different connotation when used by German youngsters, according to Cindy. "The term denotes someone of the lower class when used there," she said. "someone next to being an undesirable character."

MOST SCHOOL sports for girls center around gympastics. Cindy said they worked out on bars, rings, horses, did tumbling. "It was new to me, and I loved to try, but I never did got too proficient," she laughed.

The food was wonderful, Cindy remembered. "It is very much like ours, but spicier. We had fresh fruit, some from California, but no fruit juices. As a matter of fact, I began to look like a butter ball and had to go to work losing weight!'"

Cindy was fortunate to be placed with a well-to-do family and consequently was able to do quite a bit of traveling around Germany. She was impressed with the modern buildings, department stores, underground subways and the tremendous amount of rebuilding that has been accomplished since the war.

Pletcher Earns Real Estate Certificate

Tom Pletcher of Moraga has earned a certificate in real estate, it was announced today by J. N. Smith, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

The announcement was confirmed by Dr. Sherman Maisel, academic advisor to the Real Estate Certificate Program.

Pletcher is sales manager of John W. Loop, Inc., realtors, and is a member of the local real estate board.

Completion of eight graduate level courses at the University of California is required to gain the certificate. Courses include Trends and Factors Influencing Real Estate; Real Estate Practice; Legal Aspects of Real Estate; Real Estate Finance; Principles of Real Estate Appraisal; Property Management; Essentials of Residential Design and Construction and Brokerage Administration.

Pletcher, who lives with his wife, Ginger and his children, Michele, 4; Drew, 2 and Sandra, 1, at 1103 Larch Avenue, Moraga, is an enthusiastic golfer. And when he's not playing golf, he is water skiing or taking advantage of his membership in the Sierra Club.

He was graduated from the University of California with a degree in business administration.

The John Loop firm specializes in property management and leasing, general brokerage and residential and subdivision development.

Students Adopt Foreign Child

The Miramonte student body has voted to adopt a child in a foreign country through Foster Parents Plan, Inc., a non-profit, government-approved organization, and will be conducting a drive later in the school year to raise money for its support.

In addition to assuring a monthly cash grant of $8 for the child and his family, funds will be used for such items as new clothing, bedding, food packages, education and medical care.

WEDNESDAY — 6:10 p.m., 17 Piedmont, flooded furnace; 8:45 p.m., 19 and 20 Brookbank, flooding.

The Sociables

By MARIE MONAHAN

WHAT BETTER WAY to have a Valentine party than in a Valentine house with a Valentine Couple? That's what Linden Branch members did last Saturday night when the romantic party took place at the Ross Lane cottage of the Norman Parkers who celebrate their wedding anniversary on Dan Cupid's day.

Mildred & Pop Gunn, Dorthoy & Lloyd Tye, Lucille & Bert Garver were some of those posing for portraits caught by Irv Moore's polariod camera . . . Valentine pairs were formed in the intricate open woodwork of a unique Persian door that leads from the Parkers' living room to their famous party room.

THE PICTURES, peeled off faster than you could say Roses are Red were then mounted to a red & white lace doily & the small donation collected went into the Children's Hospital kitty. Suspended across the beam in the charming kitchen-living room were colorful tissue cutouts, those that hang in the streets during Feliz Navidad, & brought home from Mexico by the Parkers during their Christmas holiday there.

IT TOOK TWO, Charlotte & Jim Chapple, to carry in the huge confectionery of a cake she'd baked in the shape of two hearts & embroidered w/frosting w/the names of the host & hostess . . . Toasting the anniversary couple were Barbara & Vic Garber, Barbara & Bob Waters, Marian & Ken Eilers, Mae & Harold Johnson, Sylvia & Bob Cox, Chris & Bill Lang & Adele & Tony Castilani helped too—making it a very ceremonial affair w/the festive frothy cake perfected atop a white Victorian wicker table decked w/pink alabaster cherubs.

OVER AT ORINDA COUNTRY CLUB, it was a Footloose & Fancy-free time for members of Hill 'n Dale enjoying their favorite February dinner dance.

MANY OF THE ladies looking like vertiable Valentines . . . For instance, tall Laurie Abbes chose to wear a black bouffant taffeta with a harem skirt . . . Looking like a Valentine present, blonde Mary Lee Paul in a black net sheath sparkling with pink brilliants & sashed with a pink "package" tie . . . Bea Comerford's flame chiffon another knockout & ditto for Dorothy Lundblad's foam-green brocade which she bought in Hong Kong.

THE LATEST in Twist fashions was worn by Bobbye Maguire, one of those white fringed crepe jobs that might date back to Texas Guinan's time.

Speaking of the latest Dance craze, Bobbie & Jack Rieser reigned as the uncontested King & Queen in this department, drawing enviable glances from the more staid sideline spectators who wished THEY could TWIST that way.

THE Riesers were in the large crowd that came onto the club from early libations at the Clarence Woodards. Also in this large party were the Gordon Frenches, Al Rawsons, Harrison Beardsleys, Robert Hildreths, Gordon Martins, Tom Culbertsons, Richmond Stampleys, Bill Becketts, Jackie & Bill Robinson, Gay & Jack McLaren, the George Hauers, Jay & Yvonne Meyers & Joy & Bill Allen.

BEAUS & ARROWS: Frank Wright being toasted Happ B'day by Jeanette & a table of friends . . . The Bill Maguires & Jim Reads both with plans for ski-stays at Squaw. Jim & Caroline Read at the long table taken over by early party-goers to the Cal Hagstroms . . . More there were the Lee Pauls, Dick & Joan Kendall, Bob & Peggy Fields, Tom & Fran Connelly.

MORE on the conversation & canape circuit preceding the popular dinner dance were the Dr. & Mrs. James MacDonald who hosted another early conclave as did the Ward Ingrims, Lewis Rearks & the junior Lloyd Swaynes.

The Swayne's contingent for cocktails included Dr. & Mrs. Edgar Chappell, Jeff & Cis Larkin, the Robert Brittains, Jack & Nancy Van Dyne, Mr. & Mrs. Gerald Awes.

REPARTEE AT THE Rearks was shared by the Harry Pecks, Art Comerfords, Don Bonars, Nils Ecklunds, Robert Goodales, Don Doyles & Dr. & Mrs. Gordon Holmes.

The Robert Bridges & the junior Chauncey Ponds came over from Lafayette to join the Joseph Langs & the Ward Ingrams for dinner.

MOVING TO MONTEREY over the weekend were the Carl Kolbeck family who were honored by friends & neighbors Friday night at a FareThee Well . . . That's one way of getting packed up & off . . . They'll be down in the sun & sea country for just six months.

"BREAKFAST IN THE COUNTRY" was the way Mrs. Theodore Snyder's invites ran bidding peninsula & city guests to the couple's Glorietta home for a party honoring bride-elect Diana Doyle, dghtr. of Lieutenant Colonel & Mrs. William Doyle of the same neighborhood.

Hats Off To...

Ken Courtright, Pres. Chamber of Commerce

A GOLD ASPIRIN AWARD, please, to Ken Courtright, president of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and long-time active participant in community and civic affairs. Current Chamber chores include plans for the late Spring dedication of the new Post Office, the expansion of commercial parking, the advent of a new bus depot.

The genial Courtright, a third generation Californian and member of the well-known Courtright clan, has wielded the gavel for many local groups, including presidency and treasurer of Orinda Park Pool, president and director of Hacienda Homes during his former residency on Ardilla Road. A 15-year member and past president of the Orinda Lions Club, Courtright was a member of the group's original committee working jointly with the Orinda Woman's Club for the Orinda Library.

THE LOCAL insurance man, who hangs his hat in a Village office, makes his home now on Ivy Drive with his wife Martha and daughter Kay (Candy) 15, a Miramonte soph who is currently doing nurses's assistant duties at Permanente Hospital under the Girl Scouts program.

Members of the Orinda Community Church, Ken sings tenor in the choir, Martha is active in the Women's Guild as well as a member of Orinda Garden Club and a braided-rug hobbyist. A married daughter Carola Harding lives in Woodland.

Suburbia Scribblings

Rainbow 'round My Shoulder

OF COURSE YOU KNOW it wasn't raining rain at all last Wednesday on Valentine's Day. It was raining Violets. Relentlessly, relentlessly!

I like the rain . . . Esp. when the hills are shrouded in fog, curtained in gray & sheeted by shimmering waves of water. A house becomes a kind of Shangri-La shut off from the rest of the world. Which is a nice idea if you really aren't shut off as some of us could well be if the rain got any worse!

I LIKE THE RAIN: After a sudden downpour subsides, do you thing it's as pretty & pink anyplace else as it is here, esp. when the rosy glow comes through the glistening green of wet oak trees?

The song of soft-falling rain on the roof—or the crashing symphonic sounds of a storm, I like it! I like the rain & the jeweled look of a bare bush, its limbs fairly dripping w/diamonds, the globules of rain strategically spaced by that most distinguished of ALL designers, Mother Nature!

I LIKE THE RAIN: I'm as bad as the kids. I like to slosh through it, play In & Out the raindrops, check the garden damage —or drainage, relieve the eaves from the leaves, make sure the wet dog comes in to stretch in front of the fire, the cats to choose the choicest spots for their cat naps.

THE DROWNED TOWN & not a child or a dog in sight—until school's out & THEN! How are you gonna keep them home in the house after they've seen the swelling waters of a wooded road, a perfect place to sluice through on their bikes—or a roaring creek chuckling uproariously along its rocky rolling path.

I LIKE THE RAIN: The giddiness of going outside to track down the rainbow. To catch a rainbow would be fun, but I hope they never do. The space scientists, I mean. It's nice to think that Pot Of Gold just keeps right on sitting there. Waiting for me to find it. Or YOU!

HOW ABOUT Rainclothes? Do you say The Heck w/umbrellas, bumbershoots, galoshes (what are THOSE!?) & headgear & garbed in just an old slicker, make a Mad Dash for it only to arrive happily dripping at your destination?

The main thing about the rainfall. It makes you realize we couldn't LIVE without the sunshine either! Ain't it the truth?

DRY DOCK DATA: A double-header at Tilden Park recently for Birthday lassies Demeris Moorehead (the Elmo Moorehead's Darling) & Rebecca McNeil (Charmer in the Murray McNeil household) proved one point. There's nothing that pleases the moppets so much as That Merry Go Round. They have a special deal there for B'day parties—incl. punch, cake & 3 rides on the big calliope, very reasonable!

LOOK WHO CAUGHT the Brass Ring! Rowie Loughman, daughter of the Gerald Loughmans, didn't have to ride the carousel to catch hers. Irish Luck was with the lovely young lady, a Holy Names College student, who last wknd. rec'd word that she's been selected from the entire Western region to represent the Girl Scouts on an International Exchange vacation to Germany next summer.

DROWNTOWN: According to Phair's Phair-headed Don Bradley, the store's new mezzanine luncheon & munchin' spot, to be called The Bird Cage, will rate a few whistles like everything else in the store, when it opens around the end of the month. Wright's Village Drug Store is taking out the counter, closing down the fountain. Too much action on the Teen Scene.

JEAN HENDERSON, doing a dual-part for 'Dear Liar' held her audience of ladies at the Mills Club benefit completely captivated last Thurs. She was tender, touching, humorous, gruff, grandoise, overbearing . . . A woman of many emotions—esp. when it comes to the lively lines of GBS, the sentimental retort of Stella, Mrs. Pat Campbell.

Following Jean's playreading, I ducked the raindrops to drop off some rummage at Santa Maria's famous Rummage '62 . . . & thereby hangs a tale of woe.

I'm heartbroken. I lost the Family Jewels.

There I was looking for a Rummage story & darned if I didn't have to go & make one myself. They sold my one & only favorite old Norwegian pin inadvertently — as jewelry. For pennies, literally! (It's not of any real value to anyone but myself.) O Saddened heart! (S.A. P.F.M.P.)

I talked myself into trying on somebody's hand-crocheted dress donation. An hour later at Lid Miles' luncheon table, I gasped. Grasped my throat, shrieked an Eeeek & dashed up & off without so much as a lady-like explanation.

Meanwhile back at the Parish Hall, you guess it. (GULP!) My lovely old keepsake (I had unpinned it from a tweed shawl earlier.) Well, someone had found it, brought it up to the desk, put it down & in the excitement of a busy shopping day, it was minutes later sold by mistake as rummage jewelry.

IF YOU ARE the purchaser & current possessor of a graceful gold pin dangling two pedestals of filigree balls & teardrops, please call. Or bring it to the Rummage Ladies. I'm heartbroken! It was my Mother's.

SHADES OF OLD NEW ORLEANS! Orinda Art Center's artistic contribution to the local social scene will be a Mardi Gras Masque Ball Friday, March 2, at Orinda Country Club, dinner & dancing to Al Trobbe's ork. The invite says "Costume Preferred" but they'll let in as long as you're masked. Oh, it WILL be a night, alright & you'd better r.s.v.p. by Feb. 24 to Mrs. Richard Funk, CL 4-4864 or Mrs. William Traverso, CL 4-2393.

VETERAN actresses all, Jean Henderson, Wirtabel Harris, Tish Winkworth, Lid Miles, Charlotte Chapple & Julie Whitcomb (currently in the Dramateur's Silver Cord) will combine their talents for what promises to be a real wild presentation of The Mad Woman Of Chaillot.

Probably ready by Community Church's June luncheon. Charlotte Chapple will play the Mad Woman & from the cast I get the impression that they'll really sink their teeth into this one—or into each other!!

SIGHTEM: Hand-holders playing Hookey from the Home Front recently were Mary & Bill Christiansen sitting right there at "T-Bones" having sevenish supper before catching the early cinema at Rheem.

SANTA MARIA MOTHERS practicing their pivots for the JMagnin modeling stint at the Claremont Hotel next Wed. are pres. Bernice Stack, Peg Hubbard, Stella Epperson, Helen Moore, Jackie Moran, Pat White, Joyce Catti, Mary Lou Mutch, Rosemary Erving, Ann Sawyer, Margaret Wiegand, General Chairman . . . & SM Women's Club pres. Mary Rushforth.

TOTS to be taken down the ramp by a clown (Pat Finn has the costume, says she now needs the courage) will be Michele McGah, Jane Schnugg, Athena Mason, Teresa Zaccharias, Dorothy Lincoln, Linda Schwarz, Debbie Wiegand, Erin French & Janet Bergstadt.

THE recent tragedy in Orinda could well have happened to you & yours or me & mine. It points up blatantly the need for tighter regulations on the sale of ammunition to youngsters. Les Collier at Sports Unlimited will no longer sell either guns or ammo to anyone under 18 & Mr. Kayser at Orinda Hardware says that when he requests signed permits from parents, SOME of them fret and fume over being inconvenienced to furnish same.

OUR peculiar laws make it harder for a minor to buy cigarettes & liquor than to obtain the deathlystuff required to load guns.

THE COUNTY COMES in for criticism when they're more concerned over a Hardware's grass seed being fresh & up to date than making hard & fast the rules for buying ammo . . . & how often do you see boys walking along the road w/guns under their arms—or heading into the hills for a hunting spree? Orinda, more than elsewhere, is very lax. The county rule is that no guns (incl. BB's) may be fired by anyone under 16 NOT accompanied by an adult. Complain to your county to initiate new ammo sales rules & if you can't go along w/your kids, take their guns AWAY!

Retarded Kids Have a Place To Learn

The Lynn School for Retarded Children, which helps youngsters from the entire central county, has been their place of learning and understanding since it was founded in 1957.

But its sponsors, members of the Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County, Inc., are looking ahead to the time when more and more children who do not fit into regular school curriculum can be accommodated.

The school is actually two schools, the Lynn Pre-School for Retarded Children on Front Street, Danville, and the Lynn Training Center for Retarded Children at 1648 Geary Road, Walnut Creek.

"The Pre-school trains and educates the kinds so they can enter a regular "exceptional" class in the county school system when they are seven or eight years old," explained Terry Haws, council president.

"And the training center takes care of less educable children children into their teen years and older.

"At present we have 12 children in the pre-school and 13 in the training center," Haws continued.

The training programs are varied, and are conducted at the training center by one professional person, assisted by parents. At the pre-school, parents carry the load.

The $14 fee per month paid by a parent and donations are the sole support of the schools. The children bring their own lunches. The pre-school building space has been made available by an anonymous donor, and the training center building by Mr. and Mrs. George Stenmark.

How are the schools to keep up with the increase in enrollments, and the new developments in training the children?

Needed right now is a station wagon for transporting the children.

Some parents are not able to drive, and the children have no way to get to school.

Playground equipment is needed at both schools, and also such supplies as finger paints, modeling clay, toys of all kinds, children's records, game records, puzzles, play-school type jigsaws, tricycles, wheel toys, wagons and other such items.

There are plans for establishing a woodworking and hobby shop in the Walnut Creek center, also supplying the shop with a power saw. This effort will get the help of the Walnut Creek Junior Women's Club, which has again this year voted to help the retarded children.

But the club members' assistance can provide only a portion of the two centers' needs, said Haws.

Eventually it is hoped that both centers can be housed in the same building, but this is far in the future, Haws said.

Haws noted that the public is welcome to visit either or both centers after notifying the leaders beforehand.

And you can join the council. Dues are small. Contributions may also be sent to the Council for the Retarded, PO Box 1072, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Helen Young is director of the Walnut Creek center, and she is assisted by Mrs. Frank Begor, chairmon of the Parents Committee.

Sun Campaign Will Help Retarded Kids

A Sun subscription campaign to raise funds for the two Lynn Schools for Retarded Children will begin soon, it was announced.

Last year, The Sun's drive raised about $1000 for the retarded children, according to Publisher Herman Silverman.

Money from new subscriptions will be turned over to the Mary Lynn Auxiliary to the Council for the Retarded, said Silverman.

After-Game Dances Are 'Blasts'

Pioneered by the Acalanes Parents Club, after-game dances at the four area high schools have now proven both their success and their popularity.

If there are any complaints, they're usually from students and parents, too, who want more dances. Acalanes began after-game dances in the fall of 1960.

"We have no problems," Mrs. Ledru Frank, dance chairman for the Acalanes Parents Club. "We have a grand group of youngsters, who really enjoy themselves."

RULES AT Acalanes are simple, but effective. If the game is a home game, the dance begins at 10 p.m. and ends at 12 p.m. The time is advanced one-half hour for away games.

No one is permitted to enter the dance after 10:30 p.m., or 11 p.m. and coming in and out are not allowed. Students operate the record player, punch is bought in bulk through the school and any profit after cost is turned over to the student activities committee.

Only Acalanes students with student body card are permitted to attend the dance. Ted Clark, parents club president, said space was a prime factor in determining that only Acalanes students be permitted to attend the dances.

"The cafeteria was designed for a 500 capacity 20 years ago, and we just can't accommodate more than our own youngsters. We find too, that with a smaller group everyone has fun . . . and dances, whereas when the group becomes tremendous there are those that just stand around.

"OUR YOUNGSTERS know what to expect and there is no problem of control which might exist if several hundred strangers attended."

Miramonte Parents Club climbed on the dance band wagon this year, sponsoring after-game dances in the school cafeteria. Rules are similar to those at Acalanes, after which the Miramonte dances are patterned.

However, Dr. D. W. Hilger, parent club president, said that other students may attend the Miramonte dances if a Miramonte student signs to bring a guest the day of the dance during school hours.

"Personally, I would have no objection to other students joining our dances, unless it was proven to me that things got out of hand. However, it seems to be a school district policy to limit dance attendance to students from the school where the dance is held," Dr. Hilger told The Sun.

"WE HAVE had excellent cooperation from the school district, and we certainly plan to go along with their policy," he concluded. He added that attendance at the dances is usually close to 300, and that both parents and students are enthusiastic and pleased with the results of the after-game dance program.

Del Valle High School Parents Club sponsored its first after-game dance February 9. Students packed the Del Valle gym and both youngsters and chaperones agreed it was a big success.

Edward Goggin, president of the parents club, said plans are underway and committees will be formed to establish the dances on a regular basis throughout the school year next year.

LAS LOMAS High School youngsters for years have flocked to after-game dances sponsored by the Walnut Creek Recreation Department. Volunteer parents serve as chaperones and there is always one or more trained personnel from the recreation department on duty.

Rules are similar to those existing at the parent club sponsored dances.

The Pleasant Hill Park and Recreation Department sponsor a senior high and junior high teen club that have planned dances, many of them after-game dances.

Sheriff's deputies are on duty at all the dances, in a protective capacity rather than that of "watch-dog" role. Representatives of all groups told The Sun that problems are few, that the youngsters are a fine group.

Rumbles, if there are any, are "Let's have more dances, after ALL the games, not just some, and not just during basketball and football seasons."

SUCCESS of Del Valle's first after-game dance sponsored by the Del Valle Parents Club is evidenced by the "full-house." Plans are now under way to arrange dances on a regular basis, for after-game fun next year. Volunteers from the Parents Club will chaperone the dances and make all arrangements.

IT'S A BLAST . . . that's the favorite expression of Acalanes High School students as they refer to any after-game dance held at the school and sponsored by the Acalanes Parents Club. More than 300 youngsters armed with Acalanes Student Body cards flock to the dances held after football and basketball games. Pictured here are Roger Clark and Penny Prentice. More Rain Is Expected To Hit Area Tomorrow not estimate how severe the storm might get. Right now, it's a weak storm, they said.

It will bring some rain in this area some time Saturday, they said.

The storm will pass through the area Sunday, bringing showers, but the general, steady rain will probably hit on Saturday evening.

The County Disaster Office, working in conjunction with the County Public Works Department, said only one road was actually closed in the county.

However, an undetermined number were covered with water, mud and rocks.

THE LAFAYETTE - ORINDA area was the hardest hit by the heavy rains.

Minor slides affected many roads in the Lafayette-Orinda area, making driving dangerous.

The disaster office urged caution for persons having to drive on the following roads: El Toyonal, St. Mary's Road, Canyon, Charles Hill, El Nido Ranch, Minert, Lomas Contadis, Hidden Valley and Middle.

Minor slides have covered these well-traveled roads with mud and rock, Nelson said.

Many other residential roads were in the same condition, he stated.

In the Alamo-Danville area, Stone Valley Road, North Canyon Road and Bolinger Canyon Road were passable. but mud and water-covered in spots.

The Walnut Creek public works department said they were on a "semi-emergency" basis following Wednesday's downpour.

MOST of the major tributaries to Walnut Creek channel were overflowing at various locations.

Some fo the trouble spots were in the Sierra Drive-Walnut Boulevard area and the Norlyn Drive-Walnut Boulevard area as well as the Larkey area.

Ygnacio Valley Boulevard was covered with water in several spots late Wednesday night, but the water had gone down by Thursday noon.

Flood control officials said the Walnut Creek was filled to about one-third of capacity and there was lots of room left.

In Pleasant Hill, Grayson Creek was contained except for a little spill in Pacheco. Marsh Creek is about two-third of cajacity, flood control said.

GREEN VALLEY Creek in Danville caused some local problems in that area.

All public agencies agreed that the present situation is the worst since the 1958 floods, but pointed out that it doesn't come close to rivaling the problems of that year.

Unless a steady downpour hits the area, the situation will not get much worse, county public works officials pointed out.

SHOWERS, no matter how heavy, will not cause any trouble, they said.

Ron Nelson of the disaster office said Rheem Boulevard between St. Mary's Road and Moraga Road was closed to traffic late Thursday afternoon because of slides. He did not say when the street would be reopened.

The disaster office also received a report that slides were coming dangerously close to four homes on Whitehall Way in Moraga. A house on Hidalgo Road in Lafayette was also being threatened by a slide, Nelson said.

Instructional Television To Be Reviewed

Use of KQED's instructional television, recently made available to about half of the county's school population by the installation of a translator, will be the subject of a meeting of school officials Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the county schools office, Pleasant Hill.

The discussion, according to Mrs. Gertha Brown, audio-visual consultant, will concern both programs currently telecast and those which districts might request.

Attention will also be given to closed circuit television, including costs, manpower and facilities and advantages vs. disadvantages.

The group, which will consist of district superintendents, audio-visual coordinators and administrators in charge of instruction, will consider the possibility of organizing on a permanent basis, with regular meeting dates.

The same held true in the City of Walnut Creek.

The only real flooding problem in the county was in San Pablo, where Wildcat Creek spilled over its banks. The fire department and volunteers went to work Wednesday night with sandbags to minimize the overflow.

In Concord, flood control personnel as well as city employees and firemen worked on log jams in Pine Creek that caused overflows at Sunshine Drive and the Southern Pacific railroad crossing.

Local Science Students See Children's Hospital

Twenty science students from high schools in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District toured the research facilities of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay last Friday as guests of the Contra Costa County Heart Association in observance of National Heart Research Day.

The tour was under the direction of Dr. Donald D. Daniels, whose studies on children with heart defects receives financial support from the local Heart Association. Other guests included students from Napa and Solano Counties.

On the all-day tour students saw a demonstration of the catheterization process used in diagnosing heart disease as well as electronic apparatus for diagnosis and for recording findings in research. Dr. Daniels showed the operation of the heart-lung machine, one of the most revolutionary developments in heart surgery in recent years.

ASSISTING on the tour was Dr. Anne Watkins, who is at Children's Hospital on a Norman Leet Cardiology Fellowship provided by the Heart Association.

Similar tours for top science students were conducted throughout the Bay Area to show heart research financed by local Heart Associations from funds collected in the Heart Fund, and also to acquaint students with the possibilities of cardiovascular research as a possible future career.

Heart Fund activities will be climaxed with the Heart Sunday residential campaign on February 25 when volunteers will make house-to-house calls to distribute informational material and to collect funds for the year-round program of the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

Students on the tour included the following: Mt. Diablo High School: Donna Reed, 606 Oasis Street; Ronald Boyle, 1125 Peach Place; Judith Bisso, 1380 Oak Grove Road, and Gene Foster, 2802 Hillside Avenue, all of Concord.

PLEASANT Hill High School: Karen Rollin, 3233 Hudson Avenue, Walnut Creek; Diane Doyle, 260 Hyde Court, Concord; Vic Mann, 2009 Oak Park Blvd., Walnut Creek, and Jerry Woodhead, 2060 Mallard Drive, Walnut Creek.

Clayton Valley High School: Carl Dobratz, 3386 Cowell Road, Concord; Judy Mallard, 701 North Gate Road, Walnut Creek; Elaine Gertsen, 5401 Pine Hollow Road, Concord; John Giles, 1331 Grove Way, Concord, and Jane Carlson, 5845 Verna Way, Concord.

College Park High School: Greg Park, 1913 Lucille Lane, Pleasant Hill; Wade Loosbourrow, 306 Gloria Drive, Pleasant Hill, and Jan Alford, 482 Malaga Way, Pleasant Hill.

Population Of Schools Is Up 50%

School population, elementary and high school combined, has increased more than 50 per cent since 1955 in three of Contra Costa County's nine areas of high school and unified districts.

San Ramon Valley area gained 78 per cent, Mt. Diablo, 50 per cent, and Acalanes, 55 per cent. The areas, which span the geographic center of the county, added 23,177 of the total new school population of 31,485 since October, 1955.

The general county gain was 36 per cent.

Obituaries

EARL ELTCHINOFF

Funeral services for Earl Eltchinoff, 36, of 405 Soule Avenue, Pleasant Hill, were held last Friday at Christ of King Catholic Church.

Mr. Eltchinoff, a Central District fireman, died Tuesday of a heart attack on a golf course.

Survivors include his widow, Helen; a daughter, Kathryn; sons, Earl and Ramon; a stepson, David Gonzales; his mother, Mrs. Donna Eltchinoff; a brother, George, and a sister, Mrs. Earline Erlich, all of Berkeley; a brother, Don Elgin of Santa Clara.

Mr. Eltchinoff was a World War II veteran, a member of the Holy Name Society.

The Rosary was recited February 8 in the MacFarlane-Bryant Chapel, Concord.

WILLIAM COOK

Services were held February 5 at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, for William L. Cook, eight-year-old Orinda boy who was killed in a shotgun accident February 3.

The Reverend William Frankhuizen officiated and private calcination followed. Hull's Walnut Creek Chapel directed services.

William lived at 39 Donna Way. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cook and sisters Dana Katherina and Constance Ellen.

Family of the Week

THE INTERNATIONAL DOLLS held by Brenda Gunn, aged 9, symbolize the Harold Gunn family's interest in foreign countries, for the Gunns are well-traveled, having, prior to Orinda, made their homes in far-away places, including England and Germany. Popular "Pop" Gunn, scoutmaster for Explorer Troop 300, is a retired Air Force colonel, now a securities broker with the MJT Mutual Fund. Fifteen-year-old Belinda shares her sister's interest in a prize foreign doll collection and Tom, 17, serves as vice president of the Miramonte High School Student Body. Mildred Gunn will be the "American Mother" this next week to German-born Helmuth Jordan, an AFS Exchange student, who will come from Yuba City to live with the Gunns during AFS Exchange "Exchange" week. Mildred is active in St. Stephen's Church, where the family are members and is precinct coordinator for the Central Committee of the Republican party. The family recently moved from Orinda to Donald Drive in Moraga, where the mailbox yields weekly letters from another son, Harold Jr., who, following in Dad's footsteps, is training at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Scotland's Best Coming To Youth Concerts

The excitement and the color of the celebrated Singers and Dancers of Scotland will appear here in Walnut Creek Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Las Lomas High auditorium, under the auspices of Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts.

"Caledonia!" is a special production that presents a complete panorama of Scotland through the authentic music and dances of that colorful country.

Moods range from the sentiment of the beloved ballads of Robert Burns to the spirited flings of the Highlands, from nostalgic airs played by one of Scotland's great pipers to the festive "mouth music" of the chorus derived from early Gaelic sources. Featured soloist is Hilda Stewart, a bonny Scottish lass.

Two of Scotlands talented young performers interpret the lively traditional dances. Margaret Gordon is the 1961 British Champion Highland Dancer and Billy Forsyth, who placed second in the 1961 world championship competition held in Scotland last August.

The entire production is under the supervision of Andrew MacPherson who, like the beloved Robert Burns, is a distinguished son of Ayrshire.

"Caledonia!" the Singers and Dancers of Scotland was founded by MacPherson. This is their second North American tour. "Caledonia!" offers the dazzling color of its native costumes.

A few season tickets will be available at the boxoffice at Sunday's concert of the Caledonia! Singers and Dancers of Scotland.

Other concerts for this season include Lola Montes and Her Spanish Dancers March 18 and the Gilbert and Sullivan Concert Hall April 8. All concerts begin at 2:30 in Walnut Creek.

Winners of Brotherhood Contest Revealed Tuesday

The Contra Costa Brotherhood Week Committee will hold its award night for the winners of the Brotherhood Week Essay Contest on Tuesday night at 8 at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, 3800 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

The public is invited.

Dr. Floyd Marcus, county superintendent of schools, will present the awards and Mrs. Jan Sloan, chairman of the Brotherhood Week Committee, will review the past and present goals of this committee.

Contest winners will read their essays.

First and second prizes will be awarded in each of three groups—seventh and eighth grades, ninth and tenth grades, and eleventh and twelfth grades.

First prize will be a $25 U.S. Savings Bond; second prize will be a transistor radio.

There will be a short movie, after which refreshments will be served.

Some 150 essays were received. The judges, teachers in local schools, were Eldo Bianchi, Marvin Chachere, William Gripp, James Spitz, Mrs. Robert Taines and Mrs. Paul Walters.

The sponsors of the Brotherhood Week Essay Contest are: The Catholic Interracial Council of Contra Costa County, the Central County Council of Churches, the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, the Fair Play Council of Central Contra Costa County, the Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church and the Orinda Council for Civic Unity.

DUAL CAMPUS activities are discussed with principal James Lewis, right, by students Doug Bodkin and Kathy Cortese, Miramonte High School seniors who are attending the University of California at the same time they are completing their senior year at Miramonte. Each is taking one college freshman course a semester.

Books Scholarships Going To Four College Students

The International Students Council of Contra Costa County announced that four Diablo Valley College students are winners of their books scholarships.

Selected were Mohamed Droubi of Syria, Kerago James Gecaga of Kenya, Avner Levy of Israel, and Francis Waciuma of Kenya.

Droubi completed his work at Diablo Valley College last semester and is enrolled at San Jose State College majoring in engineering.

Gecaga has also transferred after completing his lower division work at Diablo Valley College. He is enrolled at San Francisco State College, majoring in political science.

Levy and Waciuma are currently enrolled at D.V.C. Levy is majoring in engineering with specialization in sound and electronics. Waciuma is a pre-law major.

Council president Maurice Marcus said the presentation of these scholarships was made Wednesday at a meeting of the International Students Council held in the lounge of the student activities building.

Realtors Name Nelson to PR, Press Position

Realtor Byron Nelson of Orinda has been appointed chairman of the public relations committee and press representative of the commercial multiple listing service division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, it was announced today by J. N. Smith, president.

Nelson is a former radio personality, having been manager of the spot sales division for the Columbia Broadcasting System in San Francisco for seven years and general sales manager for the American Broadcasting Company and Radio Station KGO in San Francisco for eight years.

The commercial multiple listing service is a specialist division within the Contra Costa Real Estate Board dedicated to commercial and industrial development of Central Contra Costa County.

The Nelsons conduct a brokerage business in Orinda. Nelson and his wife, Clair, have two sons, Skip, 19, who attends college in Sacramento and Mark, 14, a student at Miramonte. They reside at 1 Ranch Road.

'Comparable Use' Approved By Planners

Contra Costa County Planning Commission Tuesday approved the request of Joe B. Smoot for a comparable use determination.

Smoot requested that offices for architects, attorneys, engineers and accountants be designated as professional offices comparable to medical and dental offices and medical clinics and as such be allowed the same opportunity to be established in a Transition Residential Agricultural District (R-A) after the granting of a land use permit.

Planners directed that the comparable use determination be written into the ordinance under Section 8147 as an amendment which will apply in all R-A districts in Contra Costa County.

The request of Duffel-Smoot Companies for a land use permit to establish a medical and professional office building on Lot 41 of Encinas de Moraga, south of Moraga Way was withdrawn Wednesday night from the Board of Adjustment's agenda. The site involved is zoned R-A.

Three Students Will Speak in Lions Contest

Orinda Lions Club Student Speaker's Night will be held at Mike Lynn's Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Three students from Miramonte High School will speak on civic themes at the dinner meeting and a prize will be awarded to the best speaker.

Wives of Lions, school officials and interested residents will attend.

Morrish Will Address Junior League

A capsule conference, the first of its kind for the Junior League of Oakland, takes place today at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley with special guests to include members of the San Francisco Junior League as well as board members from the Sacramento group.

Among the speakers for the scheduled afternoon "Think Shop" series to follow luncheon at 12:30 is Kendric Morrish of Orinda, who will speak in the family finance section on "Your Money's Worth." Over half a hundred local women members will participate in the day's activities at which chief speakers will be Robert G. Sproul, president emeritus of the University of California, and Milton Chernin, dean of school of social welfare.

Homemaking Teachers to Design Class

Mrs. Vivian Loomis, Diablo Valley College instructor in apparel design, will address homemaking teachers of Contra Costa County junior high and high schools Monday in Room 102 of the college technical building.

The group will meet at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Loomis will draw upon her extensive experience as an instructor and as a student of dress design in Europe.

The program was announced by Mrs. Mary Louise Nissen, consultant in secondary education, Contra Costa County Schools.

Fire District Commission To Meet Feb. 28

Commissioners of the Orinda Fire Department will meet Wednesday, February 28, instead of next Thursday, due to Thursday being a holiday, according to Clarence Betz, commission secretary.

The meeting will be held in the main fire station, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Betz added that the commissioners were very pleased and satisfied with their findings on the annual inspection tour which took place last Saturday.

Bridge Scores

Rheem Center Bridge Club meeting Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. at Rheem Center reports the following scores for last week:

North-South

W. J. Maretta and W. C. Emory, 99; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shipley, 98, and Mrs. Don Schulte and Mrs. Richard Allen, 96.

East-West

Gerald Wickland and John Wollenweber, 100; Gil Farrell and Sidney Cox, 98, and Norma Mulks and George Benesch, 96.

Rotary Will See Pictures Of Europe

Pictures of Europe with emphasis on Norway and the Bavarian countaries will be shown to the Orinda Rotary Club members when they meet Wednesday noon at Mike Lynn's.

Lloyd Truman, a member of the North Oakland Rotary Club will show the pictures.

At the meeting Wednesday the Rotarians viewed a movie of the 1961 World Series. Joe Longacre was program chairman. Tom Horton, president, conducted the meeting.

Ten Days of Rain---Total Over Average

Rainfall recorded to date at the Flood Control District station in Walnut Creek is 12.08 inches since July 1 of last year.

The average rainfall for this date is 10.40 inches. A year's normal rainfall for this area is 15.2 inches.

Precipitation has been recorded for 10 straight days up to yesterday.

A total of 5.57 inches fell in this period.

Wednesday's storm dumped 2.88 inches of rain on Lafayette—the highest figure in the county. Walnut Creek recorded 1.58 inches in the same 24-hour period. In the past 10 days, Lafayette has received almost eight inches of rain.

Accelerated Students Study at University

Kathy Cortese and Doug Bodkin, Miramonte seniors, have been accepted for the Accelerated Program at the University of California in Berkeley, for the spring semester, 1962.

In this program, high school students may take units for college credit before graduation. They are selected by the University of California solely on the basis of high scholarship.

Another Miramonte senior, Lance Chilton, was accepted for the program last fall, and now has completed one college freshman course in mathematics. He is now enrolled for the spring semester, in a political science course.

Kathy will also be taking a political science course, and Doug is enrolled in freshman English. The students are dismissed from Miramonte before the end of the school day, so that they will have their afternoons free for their UC work.

By enrolling in the Accelerated Program, these students will be able to adjust their study programs to their own capacities, taking the college work now, when their scholarships indicates they are prepared for it.

Students are not required to continue work at UC after high graduation—credits may be transferred to other colleges. Any senior students who seem interested and capable are urged by their counselors to apply for the program, but final selection is left to the university.

Heavy Rains Bring Total To 23.58 Inches

Heavy rainfall in Orinda all this week brought the seasonal total to 23.58 inches and with more rains expected over the weekend. Temperatures remained mild all week. Here are the readings:

	High	Low	Rain
February 8	60	48	.11
February 9	60	50	1.75
February 10	58	48	2.90
February 11	56	45	.04
February 12	58	42	.06
February 13	53	46	1.27
February 14	55	40	1.80
February 15	57	46	2.98

This Bunny Likes to Go Swimming!

Tarzan, a Polish and Dutch breed rabbit of orange and white, gave a most un-bunny-like performance recently when he dove into his owner's swimming pool for a quick dip in 42 degree water!

Undaunted by his feat, Tarzan swam to the side where has was pulled from the pool by Merv Kirchner, who is probably still wondering just what breed of rabbit his daughters are raising.

Nancy and Kathy Kirchner of Hillcrest Drive, have Tarzan and his mate, Silky, as part of a Lafayette 4-H Club project. Silky is pure white and a native daughter.

The girls intend to breed the rabbits and sell the bunnies, which they hope will be ready for sale by Easter.

AQUATIC BUNNY, right, comes by his name of Tarzan justly. Small but mighty, Tarzan recently jumped into the swimming pool at the Merv Kirchners' home on Hillcrest Drive and nonchalantly swam to the edge in 42-degree water. His mate, left, appears bored with the whole escapade. The bunnies are a 4-H Club project for Kathy and Nancy Kirchner, members of the Lafayette 4-H Club. Photo by Woody Hansen.

3-County Transit Viewed

Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District have ordered preparation of detailed plans and estimates for a $787,000,000 rapid transit system to serve Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties.

They left the door open to add Marin County if current studies establish the feasibility of installing rapid transit on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Total cost of a four-county system would be $1,056,000,000.

THE NEW plans are to be ready for presentation to boards of supervisors no later than June 1, with a public vote scheduled at the November General Election, according to General Manager John M. Peirce.

BARTD President Adrien J. Falk said he is "very optimistic" about the chances of success of the new plans for a system covering either three or four counties.

He said, however, that inclusions of Marin County may depend upon approval by congress of substantial federal aid.

"As far as I can determine, every county will get virtually everything it wants in terms of routes, stations and rapid transit service to meet the travel needs of its residents.

"THE PLANS we will propose will provide a basic system that is financially feasible and designed for expansion to other areas in the years ahead."

By their action, the transit directors eliminated any further consideration of facilities in San Mateo County.

It was that county's rejection of the district's previous proposal which necessitated development of new plans.

The three-county system on which detailed work was ordered provides the same facilities as previously proposed for Alameda and Contra Costa counties—about 60 miles of routes fanning out from Oakland to Richmond, Concord and Fremont.

IN SAN Francisco, the previous route along the Mission-Southern Freeway corridor would be retained as far as Daly City, but the entire route along the Geary-Post corridor leading to the Golden Gate Bridge would be eliminated.

The four-county system would include all of the three-county facilities and would add the Geary-Post line in San Francisco, a Golden Gate Bridge connection and a route in Marin County as far north as Novato.

Both systems would include provisions to tie existing San Francisco street car lines into the rapid transit system.

Chief Engineer Keneth M. Hoover estimated that the three-county system could be built in nine years and the four-county system in 17 years.

Practical Skills Offered Acalanes Girl Students

Clothing classes at Acalanes High School are an integral part of the general education program at the Lafayette secondary school. This particular phase of the educational offering is directed especially to high school girls, according to principal Stanley Walgren, who says that such courses draw steady interest from students seeking a general education as well as students who are taking a college prep program.

"Students in sewing are taught practical seamstress skills which will stand them in good stead as homemakers in the future, as well as criteria which will serve as a basis for good taste in clothing and home decor." Walgren reports that seven classes in sewing are part of the Acalanes home economics curriculum that features elements of consumer buying, home management, personal and business budgeting and other practical facets for students who are not college-bound.

Girls in the Acalanes home economics sewing classes recently completed an apparel unit creating their own fashions for entry in a regional high school sew-it-yourself contest and fashion show held earlier this month at the Concord Inn. Miss Marcia Jesen won an award for her ensemble in the competition sponsored by the Federation of Women's Clubs and a national pattern industry.

In addition to home economics skills the Acalanes High general education program also includes courses in industrial arts which attracts boys and some girls, too; courses in business education—typing, shorthand, office machine operation and use, and classes in art.

Acalanes Union High School District Assistant Superintendent of Education Leland Russell explains that a variety of subjects is offered at each of the district's high schools (Miramonte, Del Valle and Las Lomas, in addition to Acalanes High). Russell states that along with the current popular emphasis on college preparation, the Acalanes District, "continues to develop its general education program to serve both the terminal student (whose formal education ends with high school), and the student who plans to continue his formal educational program after high school."

Noted Pianist To Play

Roy Bogas, considered among the most talented far west pianists of the modern day, will play tomorrow at Las Lomas High School, under the auspices of the Acalanes Community Concert Association.

Bogas was discovered at the age of 19 by Menuhin.

He was born in 1934 in New York City, and became a prodigy pupil of Hedwig Rosenthal at the age of six. He became a Californian when family moved west in 1945.

He then received his training at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, studying piano with the late Ada Clement and Adolph Baller.

He has an A.B. from the University of California in Berkeley, and is a member of the extension faculty there.

His first appearance with orchestra came at the age of 14, playing the Shostakovich piano concerto with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Rudolph Ganz.

Since then he has made numerous appearances as soloist on the west coast and as a recitalist, in addition to his many concerts together with Yehudi Menuhin, Michael Rabin, David Abel, Zora Nelsova and Joseph Szigeti.

At the International Piano Competition in Brussels last May, Bogas received a special award and was honored by Queen-Mother Elizabeth of Belgium, as well as by leading musicians present who predicted that he would become internationally known in a very short time.

Next season he will make his debut in India, to be followed by concerts in Europe. He will return to the United States and his adopted California in the fall of 1963.

Admission to this concert is your membership card in the Acalanes Community Concert Association.

Garvey Elected Vice-President, Teacher's Ass'n

The members of the California Chapter, American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages of the U.S elected James A. Garvey of Acalanes High School, vice president and Richard W. Leland, Oakland Unified School District, secretary-treasurer for two-year terms.

The occasion was the first meeting of the year for the AATSEEL (Calif.), at a luncheon meeting last Saturday, at the Men's Faculty Club, University of California, Berkeley.

Qualified teachers of Russian are now on the faculties of every high school in Contra Costa County. Parents are urged to acquaint their children with the opportunity for instruction in a language of primary influence for about 310,000,000 people. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, under the provisions o fthe National Defense Education Act, now lists Russian as a "critical" language, and includes it as one of six languages in the high priority group.

Today, approximately 20 per cent of all scientific literature is published in Russian. In excess of 600 high schools in the U.S. now have classes in the Russian language.

Multiple listing sales totaled $2,788,585 during January, according to the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

Jewish Center Holds Service Tonight at 8:30

Rabbi David Robins and Cantor Henri Goldberg, assisted by the Center Mixed Choir, will officiate at the regular Friday night services of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center tonight at 8:30 in the center at 3800 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

Hostesses at the Oneg Shabat following the service will be Mrs. L. Bernstein, Mrs. M. Sterns and Mrs. B. Freeman.

This week's calendar is as follows: Saturday at 9 p.m.—a reception and social for all new members with Milton Greenstein in charge of arrangements.

Tuesday at 8 p.m.—a special program honoring the winners of the Essay Contest sponsored by the National Council of Churches, Catholic Inter-Racial Council of Contra Costa County, Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, Fair Play Council, Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church and the Orinda Council for Civic Unity.

Wednesday at 8 p.m. a meeting in the Town Hall Series of Jewish Learning with Rabbi William Stern of Temple Sinai in Oakland and Rabbi Jacob Steinhorn of Temple Beth Jacob in Oakland as guest speakers. Stanley Harris will act as moderator.

Parents Will Hear Science Coordinator

Parents will have the opportunity to dine and talk with the teachers of their children at the traditional pot-luck dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Orinda School auditorium. Wednesday, February 14 will be the date for parents of children in third through fifth grades. Kindergarten through second met last Wednesday.

Is Your Group Known? Give Chamber Facts

An urgent request for information has been issued by Mrs. Edwina Spingola, Lafayette Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager.

In an effort to update chamber records and have information available for the many requests that come to the chamber daily, Mrs. Spingola asks that all clubs, organizations and special interest groups submit by mail, the name of group, president or chairman's address and phone number, time, place and stated meetings.

All groups, including hobby groups, youth groups, as well as civic and social groups, are asked to comply with this request as soon as possible.

Neighborhood scout commissioners are asked to send in their names and phone numbers and the number of troops (girl, boy, cub, brownie) organized in their neighborhood.

Mail information to Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, 3471 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Girl Scouts Observe International Month

February is International Month wherever there are Girl Scouts or Girl Guides. During this month Girl Scouts give special thought to the things which are of importance to all people such as good will, peace and health. George Washington's Birthday, February 22nd, is doubly celebrated by Girl Scouts as Thinking Day.

This date was so selected as it is also the birthdate of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of all scouting, and of his wife, Lady Olave Baden-Powell, chief world guide.

Among the many celebrations marking this day, according to Mrs. Richard Leland of Orinda, chairman of Girl Scout International Friendship Activities for the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council, is the exchange of scrapbooks between the Brownie Scouts of Diablo Valley and their counter parts, the Poulaikis of the Hellenic Girl Guide Association in Athens, Greece.

BROWNIE SCOUTS in troops led by Mrs. C. D. McColm, Jr., Walnut Creek; Mrs. O. E. Duling, Lafayette; Mrs. Helen Kelly, Walnut Creek; Mrs. R. Barlow, Ygnacio Valley; Mrs. Peter de Fremery, Pleasant Hill; and Mrs. Darrel Brown, Ygnacio Valley, have been busily preparing their books since last fall.

Each book is in three parts; in part one, the Brownie Scouts have introduced themselves with pictures and short autobiography of themselves and their families and tell the things they like to do; part two includes pictures of their troop activities and samples of their projects — pictures include both photographs and original drawings of their service projects, hikes, trips and ceremonies.

In part three they tell of their schools, the thrings they enjoy doing here in the valley as well as in Oakland and San Francisco. Many also included a section about the way they celebrate the Walnut Festival, Thanksgiving, Christmas and St. Valentine's Day.

"Best of all," says Mrs. Leland, "is that these Brownie Scouts have a real reason for sending their Thinking Day books to Greece, as many of the girls met Miss Eva Pentheroudaki, Brownie Scout commissioner of the Hellenic Girl Guide Association, when she visited in this council for five weeks last summer.

"DURING PART of this visit sponsored by the Juliette Low World Fellowship Fund, and the Experiment in International Living, Miss Pentheroudaki served as a program consultant at Camp Twin Canyon in Lafayette where the girls learned to know and love her for her games, songs, puppet plays and 'wide games' (wide games are a type of self and patrol testing treasure hunt enjoyed by guides the world over).

"Brownie Scouts here are eagerly awaiting the arrival of a similar scrapbook from Athens, and it is hoped that many penpals will develop among the individual Brownies and Poulaikis —fortunately English is taught at an early age in Greece."

Orinda Village Scouts to Meet

Seventeen troops of the Orinda Village Neighborhood Girl Scouts will combine to enjoy an international program at Sleepy Hollow School, Monday, February 19, from 4-5 p.m.

Contributions to the Juliette Lowe World Friendship Fund will be collected for furthering scouting here and abroad.

The program will consist of an opening flag ceremony by Troop 348. A brief talk by the scouts of Troop 284 who will tell the audience of approximately 400 Girl Scouts and guests why February is observed as international month. Mrs. J. E. Pearson is leader of this troop and the scouts are Jane Carbone, Cynthia Egli, Elizabeth Hanson, Peggy Hart, Karlene Helenius, Ann McLaren, Gayle Miller, Donna Newacheck, Mary Alice Newman, Martha Pearson and Carol Ann Runo.

A skit with an international theme by third grade Brownie Troop 215 titled "The Heart of a Doll" will be presented. The leader of this troop is Mrs. P. L. Hussey and the scouts are Cheryl Anderson, Joye Beckett, Lori Chapman, Joan Crook, Lisa Douglass, Denise Fastabend, Leslie Fitch, Hope Fletcher, Debbie Grundel, Elizabeth Guilliams, Nancy Howe, Kristine Howell, Gayle Hussey, Allyson Ingram, Cynthia Kinney, Margaret Leavitt, Linda Locklin, Patty Madison, Corrine Rosenthal, Susan Spott, Barbara York and Cathy Shoener.

Rowie Loughman, Miramonte graduate of Senior Troop 128, who has recently been selected as a delegate from our Region XII to the 1962 International Senior Scout event "Experience in International Living in Germany" will talk about international opportunities for Girl Scouts.

The film "The Wider World" will be shown. This film will show the world-wide scope of the scouting movement and how the idea of service is common to Girl Scouts and Girl Guides everywhere.

Raskob Helps Secure Grant For Center

Robert Raskob of 48 Charles Hill Road has been instrumental in securing a $30,000 grant for the Raskob Reading Center of the College of the Holy Names in Oakland, it was announced recently by college officials.

The grant will consist of $10,000 per year to be given over a three-year period and will be used in a program of language development for culturally deprived children, according to Sister Eileen Marie, director of the center.

Morinda Parents Invited To Brownie Orientation

Parents of first and second graders attending the Rheem, Glorietta, Del Rey, Inland Valley and Santa Maria schools received invitations this week to attend scouting orientation series planned by the Morinda neighborhood.

Meetings are scheduled as follows: Glorietta and Rheem school parents are invited to attend Tuesday, February 27 either at the 10 to 11:30 a.m. session, or at the 7:30 to 9 p.m. session. Invitations to Del Rey and Inland Valley parents request attendance Thursday, March 1 at either 10 to 11:30 a.m., or at 7:30 to 9 p.m.

All meetings will be held at the Orinda Community Church. Parents of children attending Santa Maria School should attend according to the areas in which they live.

Those attending meetings will have the opportunity to learn about the Girl Scout program, volunteer their services and register their daughters with Mrs. Robert Bartlett, neighborhood troop organizer, and Mrs. Edward Patterson, neighborhood chairman, for placement in troops scheduled to start next September.

If your child is interested in becoming a Brownie Scout and you cannot attend any of the orientation meetings, mailing of your reservations will automaticly put your child on a waiting list until you can attend our next orientation series to be given next fall. No child will be placed without parent orientation.

Feeling the great need for parent understanding of the entire Girl Scout program, particularly the position of the Brownie Scout, we have arranged these meetings so that everyone interested can have the opportunity of attending a parent orientation meeting as a prerequisite to scouting membership in no way eliminates membership for girls in scouting, it merely prolongs it until parent understanding of the program is assured.

We shall look forward to seeing as many parents as possible so we may share with them our enthusiasm for the Girl Scout program as it relates to their daughters.

Work with your schools and PTA or Parents Club. Your child's education is of prime importance.

NEW OFFICERS of the Orinda-Moraga Democratic Club are pictured here as they make final plans for the appearance of Attorney-General Stanley Mosk at Inland Valley School at 8 p.m. tonight. The new officers are, standing, Carl J. Weber, corresponding secretary; Charles Wagner, treasurer; seated, Arthur A. Pennebaker, vice president; James V. Burchell, president, and Mrs. Robert Hill, secretary. Sun photo by Jim Dodge.

Mosk to Speak Tonight at Inland Valley

When Attorney General Stanley Mosk addresses a major Democratic meeting tonight in Orinda, he will be introduced by Deputy Attorney General Howard Jewel, who was Democratic candidate for congress from Contra Costa County in 1958.

As one of Mosk's principal assistants, Jewel is credited with characterizing the John Birch Society as including, "Little old ladies in tennis shoes."

Mosk will speak at Inland Valley School at 8 p.m. and will be honored at a public reception at Oak Springs Clubhouse immediately following. James Burchell, newly elected president of the Orinda - Moraga Democratic Club, will preside at the meeting.

Among the honored guests present will be Senator George Miller Jr., Assemblyman John Knox and Jerome Waldie, and the three aspirants for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 14th District: Hal Mutnick, Dr. Joel Fort and Chuck Weidner.

Roberts Serves In London, Eng.

Brook Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abbot Roberts of 1125 Camino Vallecito, has been promoted to the rank of airman first class.

Roberts who is serving a four-year enlistment in the U.S. Air Force is stationed at Alconbury Airbase, near London, England. He is on temporary duty with an air unit in French Morocco at the present time.

Senior Round-up Plans Keep Area Scouts Busy

Mrs. Max Fisher, leader of Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Troop 226 of Pleasant Hill, has been appointed by Girl Scouts U.S.A. as a troop leader for the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup at Button Bay, Vermont, July 15 to July 30, according to Mrs. Robert Love, chairman of personnel Services for the Diablo Valley Girl Scout Council.

In speaking for the board of directors of the council, Mrs. Love said, "We are very proud that one of our leaders has been selected to serve at Roundup.

"This will be the third such Roundup sponsored by Girl Scouts U.S.A. Roundup is an encampment of 10,000 Senior Girl Scouts and leaders from the United States and 26 other countries where ther are Girl Scouts or Girl Guides.

"Diablo Valley will be well represented at the 1962 Roundup, as two patrols of Senior Girl Scouts are presently in training with Mrs. Mary Loveland of Orinda, and Mrs. Fisher to prepare themselves for participation.

"THESE GIRLS are Cornelia Davis, Walnut Creek; Teen Dawson, Walnut Creek; Susan Dowell, Pleasant Hill; Judy Jacobson, Walnut Creek; Janet Jones, Orinda; Maryanne Kearns, Lafayette; Vicky Maffei, Pleasant Hill; Caryl Morris, Danville; ean Neben, Lafayette; Roberta Nichols, Orinda; Cathy Reeser, Walnut Creek; Arteen Rollman, Walnut Creek; Judy Swanson, Orinda; Leslie Smith, Orinda; Judy Warren, Walnut Creek, and Val West, Walnut Creek.

In addition to sharpening up their camping and patrol skills, the girls are busily earning their third of expenses for the long journey and exciting encampment through baby-sitting, ironing and other household chores.

"Their parents will pay another third and proceeds from the 1962 Girl Scout Cookie Sale to begin March 24 will purchase patrol equipment and cover the remaining expenses," Mrs. Love continued.

Everyone will be able to enjoy this Third Roundup, as General Foods is planning a nation-wide telecast as well as a 16mm sound movie of all activities.

Evaluation of Superintendent Officed Talked

Evaluation of the county school superintendent's office, to be undertaken statewide, was the topic of the fourth of a series of meetings sponsored by the 32nd District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the office of Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent.

The meeting Tuesday was held at Contra Costa College, San Pablo, and the remainder of the series will be March 6 and 13.

The first half of the series took place at Diablo Valley College.

Dr. Frank Burke, director of educational services, Contra Costa County Schools, will discuss the evaluation, assisted by Roy Andreen, consultant in guidance, and Charles Montgomery, graduate student at the University of California and a research intern on the county staff.

We live in a beautiful area. Don't litterbug. Let's keep our garden clean.

American Ballet Opens at Curran February 19

American Ballet Theatre returns to the Curran, San Francisco, for one week. This is its first local visit since 1955. Its numerous international tours on behalf of the United States' Cultural Exchange Program have restricted its activities wthin the U.S.

During its 22 years, the company has produced 103 ballets, of which 32 were world premieres and another 29 were premiered in the American Ballet Theatre Experimental Workshop.

Principal dancers appearing with the company are Maria Tallchief, Lupe Serrano, Ruth Ann Koesun, Sallie Wilson, John Kraiza, Royes Fernandez, Scott Douglas, Ivan Allen and Bruce Marks. Making their first appearance in the west are Mariane Orlando and Caj Selling, both on leave from the Royal Swedish Ballet.

Included in the repertoire to be presented during the Curran engagement are four ballets new to the company this season: "Etudes," choreography by Herald Lander, a major work using the entire company; "Moon Reindeer," choreographed by Birgit Cullberg; William Dollar's lively "Divertimento - Rossini," and the new "Eden Pas de Deux," also by Miss Cullberg.

Another ballet new to San Francisco from the third act of Petipa's "Raymonda" and "Miss Julie," another Cullberg work based on the play by August Strindberg with music by Ture Rangstrom.

A special matinee will be performed February 22—Washington's Birthday—and one February 24. February 19 through the 24th nightly performances will be given at 8:30. Tickets may be obtained at the Curran box office now.

Smallpox Danger Not Past

"The danger of small pox is not a thing of the past. It could happen here," Dr. John Baier, assistant county health officer, said.

Recent deaths from small pox in England and Germany alert us to the need to keep up our status against this severe disease, Dr. Baier said.

In the past six weeks small pox has been carried into England five different imes by visitors from Pakistan. As a result of these first five cases, 21 additional cases have occurred in England, seven of which have resulted in death.

Dental Award Is Offered

"Ada," the Contra Costa Dental Society's equivalent of an "Oscar" or an "Emmy," was awarded to Mrs. Grace Wagner, a first grade teacher of the Pittsburg Unified School District, and to Mrs. Jane Krigin, a nurse in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, Tuesday night at the Concord Inn.

"Ada" is an abbreviation for annual dental award, honoring those persons who have been outstanding in their efforts to improve dental health in Contra Costa County.

County Should Pass Gun, Ammo Law

Did you know that legally your youngster, regardless of his age, can walk into any sporting goods store, buy a rifle or shotgun and ammunition on the spot, and walk out with it?

That is according to law throughout the county. Walnut Creek has a city ordinance prohibiting the sale of ammunition — even BBs, to youngsters under 16 years of age.

And, of course, it depends on whether the owner of the sporting goods store will sell the equipment.

BUT THERE is neither state law nor county ordinance prohibiting the above mentioned sales.

There is a state law that prohibits the sale of revolvers to anyone under 18, and there is a three-day waiting period for anybody before a revolver can be taken after it is purchased, but that is about the limit of the law.

Now obviously there is plenty wrong here. And there are several things that can be done about it.

First, The Sun recommends that the county, which has the power to do so, pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of any kind of firearm, including BB guns, or ammunition of any kind, to anybody under the age of 18 unless the child is accompanied by at least one of his parents.

Secondly, we recommend that the sporting goods stores, hardware dealers, and others who operate sporting goods departments, agree on a policy similar to that outlined above, whether or not there is a county ordinance.

Of course, all sporting goods dealers would have to agree to the same policy or it would be useless.

IT IS WORTHY of note that most dealers already partially support such a program. (See front section story.) Most will not sell firearms of any kind to a youngster without an adult along.

We might add, hastily, that laws are wonderful, but they are not the final solution. The final solution rests with the parents and the home.

The situation is just like that which involves liquor. The law says that minors cannot purchase liquor, but we all know that they do get their hands on it if they want to. It either comes out of the family supply, or they get an older "friend" to purchase it for them if they are under age.

NOW, KIDS may never be able to buy a bullet, if ordinances are passed, but a shell from daddy's arsenal can kill a friend just as easily as one that is purchased over the counter.

In other words, it is the parents' duty to supervise the control of firearms around the house, and, equally important, see that the children know how to handle firearms with the proper respect if they are going to be at all available to them.

There have been five accidents recently in our general area, all involving youngsters and guns. All have happened since the first of the year.

You will find other aspects of this problem discussed in Under The Sun on the right hand side of this page, and you will find the facts from which the editorial was drawn in the front section of the paper.

IF YOU WILL remember, some time ago the county passed an ordinance banning the sale or possession of switch-blade knives. As far as can be determined, there has been little trouble with this weapon since that ordinance was passed.

It is in the power of the county to pass a similar ordinance regarding the sale of firearms and ammunition to minors, and we strongly urge the county board of supervisors to pass such an ordinance.

If the life of only one youngster is saved, it is well worth it.

MOST sporting goods store operators recognize the problem and agree that such an ordinance would be good. Most have been following the precepts without an ordinance.

But why not insure unanimous observance of these principals by passing such an ordinance.

It is badly needed.

LET'S CLIMB OVER the back fence and shoot a rabbit! Fine, but what happens if that gun goes off? The youngster on the left will be seriously hurt, if not killed. Youngsters should either not have guns, or should know how to handle them if they are accessible. That's no toy gun, either!

Those Savings Will Be Passed Along... Yes?

Our county has once again proven that it can progress—and progress in a way which should be most gratifying to the taxpayers.

As you may have noticed in your last issue of The Sun, the county has purchased and installed an IBM 1401 computer—a fantastic machine that does everything but sort the supervisors' mail, and it could probably do that if it were properly programmed.

ACCORDING to the county administrator's office, the total dollar savings to the county—and presumably to the taxpayer—are almost beyond figuring.

For example, through the use of the machine, the county will not have to hire numerous employees that would have been necessary over the next five years.

Furthermore, through the storage of data on tape instead of filing cabinets, the auditor's office will not have to be expanded, which would have meant renting additional office space.

In fact, through the removal of file cabinet records the county is actually gaining space.

FURTHERMORE, the time required to process and file records is slashed fantastically.

The county is to be congratulated for modern, progressive, administrative thinking in purchasing and installing this machine. Now that we've got it, we should use it to the best of its capacity, so that we can achieve maximum savings.

And, need it be added, the savings should be passed along to the taxpayers?

They will, won't they Mr. Supervisor?

The Staff Corner

Please Bite Back....

By DICK OSBORN

Reading a trade paper the other day, we came across a column item listing the pet peeves of editors and reporters.

These come under the title, "we sure are tired of hearing that remark."

On the other hand, let me hasten to say, we love comments from our readers and subscribers and welcome them . . . praise and criticism alike.

BEING ONLY HUMAN (which some people doubt) editors and reporters do make mistakes. They do get up on the wrong side of the bed, and like anybody who has to make multitudinous decisions, they are sometimes in error.

So, before you get angry, let me remark that there must be a good many remarks made by editors and reporters that the general public gets tired of too.

And if any of you have such remarks, then write us a letter. We'll be glad to print it.

MEANWHILE, we are offering you a list of one editor's pet peeves. We might add that we do not agree with his entire list.

"Why don't you put my name in the paper?"

"I was misquoted."

"The Democrats control your newspaper."

"The Republicans run your newspaper."

"Why doesn't your newspaper take a stand in the elections?"

"I'll sue!"

"The school board is going into executive session. Will the reporters present please leave?"

"Don't quote me, but . . . "

"When the mayor broke his leg you ran a story on it. Why didn't you write one about me when I told you I injured my elbow?"

"To heck with Caroline and Jackie. I wanna read real news."

"Would you please not print the price on the building permit for my new home? You see, it says it cost $9500, and I told my friends . . . "

"WHY don't you put my name in the paper?"

"Our Cub Scout pack is going to elect officers Wednesday night, and we want a reporter to cover it."

"So you're a newspaperman, eh, son? Used to be one myself. Sold ads for the Odd Fellows' monthly in Muskogee back in '26."

"You're going to take a PICTURE? But my hair's a MESS!"

"I punched a reporter in the nose one time when he wrote something bad about me."

"YOUR sports page ran just one paragraph on the eastern regional curling championship playoffs last week."

"Why didn't your paper blast them in that story? They're all crooks and you know it."

"Your paper takes sides."

"Hello, this is Ima Duns and I'm a fourth-grader at Alimentary Elementary School and could you please tell me who the fifth President of America and his secretary of state was?"

"No comment."

"I'm going to cancel my subscription."

"Why don't you put my name in the paper?"

YOU KNOW how it is nowadays . . . Everything has an Image.

Like Christmas . . . & its Image of beautiful children sharing shiny new toys under the beautiful shining tree.

AND like Motherhood. With Mother all wrapped up in a beautiful pegnoir under a dreamy chintz comforter with a serene new baby.

AND like Valentine's Day . . . When your shining knight seizes you in his arms & sweeps you gallantly across the threshold & out to dinner.

WELL, we can dream, can't we?

Maybe that's what images are really for. To create the illusion with which we delude ourselves.

LIKE my image of Christmas Baking with the kiddies. It's never ONCE turned out the way it looks in the picture magazines!

BUT either fond recollection fools me—or my Image of a Rainy Day At Home didn't include children home from school . . . on Lincoln's birthday.

Alone with the rain on the roof, the Image works fine. But last Monday, quelle disillusionment!

THERE I WAS . . . all set for a homey day. Like with late breakfasts & lingering conversations with baby babbling along with the rest of us.

BUT baby had a cold & didn't babble. She bawled!

There WERE four late breakfasts alright. All individually . . . & the only conversation that lingered was arguing. About who would do or wouldn't do which chores. Or WHO broke the last YoYo string. Or who stole the sports section?

THAT kind of conversation lingered on & on. ALL through the day until dinner.

Oh, sweet Image! I had in mind a roaring fire to fend off the gloom of the rainy day. A perfect foil for a cozy family picture—of me catching up on the mending & the children playing games happily nearby.

BUT THE FIRE never DID get made. At least not the kind I had visualized in The Image.

We did burn a few milk cartons. I DID leave the coffee pot on—with no coffee in it . . . & the cookies did a slow burn in the oven.

WHAT with the Animal Kingdom surrounding me, an obstacle course of toys & flying YoYos, whines of "What to do?" & the constant kitchen confusion due to teen-age hunger pangs, not to mention the mammoth appetite of a ten-monther, no one ever DID go out for firewood.

Which was probably all wet anyhow.

THE YOUNG LADY of the house had the table & floor STREWN with Valentine makings, some of which baby found fine for chewing . . . & the children's choice & mine, in radio music, are worlds apart.

I rocked & rolled through a day I had originally planned to waltz through . . .

Yes, there was definitely something wrong with The Image of My Rainy Day.

If I scrambled the letters & added an "R," it would be closer to the truth.

A rainy day at home, peaceful & fun, with the children, IS more a MIRAGE . ..

Like Camping trips . . .

Mother's Day . . . & Ad Infinitem!

BIRCHERS

Dear Editor:

Welch distorts facts in his J. Birch Society statements. Recently the Catholic Bay Area weekly, "The Monitor," took Mr. Welch to task for claiming that leaders in this church were members of the John Birch Society.

A falsification is not going to help to combat communism, and we know that impugning the motives of the nation's leaders will not effectively fight communism.

Rather, it helps the causes of Lenin, Marx, etc.

Now, we have Dr. Schwarz going about the country with his faculty of crusaders doing much the same thing, distorting facts and being negative in the approach to our problems.

Obviously, we need the truth.

We need good journalism and fair reporting on the part of weekly papers and in the daily press.

If our nation is to prosper we must expose the fraud, the half truth, the hysteria, the name callers and the witch hunters on every occasion..."

THOMAS KENDALL

MORAGA BONDS

Dear Editor:

The governing board, staff, and administration of the Moraga School District wish to express their appreciation to Helen Scharmer and your newspaper for their cooperation during our bond campaign.

We are pleased to report the success of the campaign. This represents the efforts of many people and its success is theirs. To your organization belongs no small measure of that success.

Again, thank you.

WILLIAM H. KNIGHT,
District Superintendent.

PATRIOTISM

Dear Editor:

I'd like to read more in your paper that sounds like good patriotism-

The enclosed article won't hurt you to read it. I think it's great and would like to see you print another "fellow editor's" stand.

MRS. F. N. WOODS

LABELS

Dear Editor:

In response to E. Winkler: People speaking out against communism are not all instantly labeled "extreme right winger" or extremist.

Some are labeled Republican. Some are labeled Democrat. Some are labeled Liberal. Some are labeled Conservative.

Those who seek to combat the totalitarian mass movement of Communism by substituting another totalitarian mass movement are, as I understand the designation, currently being labeled "extreme right winger" until they establish their own label.

In Germany the label was Nazi. In Italy the label was Fascist.

Those who "religioficate" (who turn their practical purposes into holy causes) are labeled fanatics. Isn't it true that Dr. Schwarz has been reported in the press as replying to his critics that such criticism as he and his crusade were receiving was also the lot of Christ, John Wesley, etc?

KALEN CRAWFORD

Under The Sun

How Right is Right? A 5-minute Survey!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

A question well worth pondering: Is the ultra-conversative, rightist movement hurting Communism or it is helping them by its tactics?

Let's tackle this problem for five minutes and see what others have to say.

The Literary Gazette of Moscow printed this on April 14, 1961:

"Lenin said that the most ardent foes of Communism will eventually become frightened and suspicious of everybody who does not agree with them.

"Now the Communist movement has gained unexpectedly a new supporter. His name is Robert Welch."

Mr. Welch meet Mr. Lenin

The article then cites some of Welch's charges against highly-placed Americans and says:

"This is the teaching of Robert Welch and his John Birch Society. Here is more proof that Lenin's teachings and predictions were correct."

Writing of the John Birch Society, Thomas M. Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, noted:

"It is worth pondering the possibility that the organization, unwittingly, is following a Communist-inspired line to destroy Americans' faith in their most respected leaders and institutions."

Much harm, no good

The Palo Alto Times said in an editorial:

"The extremists . . . in their fear of Communism or their zeal to counter it are flailing about and damaging the very institutions they claim they are trying to preserve."

Republican Senator Thomas Kuchel pointed out recently that the John Birch Society seeks some of the very same goals as the Soviet Union. He said that the Bircher's goal of pulling the U.S. out of the United Nations and NATO was an instance of their identity of aim with the Communists.

Next, Senator Goldwater:

Senator Barry Goldwater recently said conversatives must "beat off the idiots that are always attracted to a movement at its beginnings . . . There are always people who will go off on a tangent if they don't think their ideas are being carried out to the letter."

Dr. Russell Kirk, a conservative author and educator, recently wrote for "America," a Catholic weekly. Kirk says that Robert Welch, founder of the Birch Society, "has done more to injure the cause of responsible conservatism than to act effectively against communism."

A similar case can be drafted against other rightist groups, such as the one headed by Billy James Hargis, the Tulsa evangelist.

Have you read the two-page article in last week's "Time" magazine on Dr. Fred Schwarz' school of anti-communism? It is interesting and raises the question of whether such schools really accomplish what they intend to.

Well, what do you think (in 200 words or less)?

Letters to The Editor

MORE McCUNN

Dear Editor:

Recent events involving the superintendent of the Diablo Valley College have caused many citizens to wonder just what can be done to remedy a deplorable situation. Because Dr. McCunn is responsible to the board of trustees, it is clearly their function to determine and take the necessary course of action.

This leads us directly to the question: What is the function of a school board?

We are all aware that a school board controls the financial operation of a district, hires and fires personnel, plans new construction, etc. A less obvious function but, I think, a more important one, is that of a buffer.

The board must act as a buffer between pressure groups and the school so that teaching and learning can proceed in a quiet atmosphere of free inquiry.

TO PARAPHRASE a quotation of Prof. Joel Hildebrand, a school board exists so that the classroom teacher can carry out his job. If this is true, then it follows that any situation which interferes with good classroom teaching must be of immediate concern to the board.

Now exactly this situation exists at the Diablo Valley College. The effect on teaching and on learning can be surmised from the fact that members of the faculty adopted a resolution calling for the superintendent's dismissal.

While the problem of a school administrator's espousing politically extremist causes is, fortunately, rare, the problem of extremist groups outside the schools bringing pressure to bear upon the schools is not. (There has, in fact, been a resurgence of pressures to force the schools to adopt the superpatriotism, the literary code, of various groups.) Thus our high schools are being covertly harassed to remove books from the curricula which are, in the opinion of competent teachers of English, excellent reading material for students.

THE DUTY of a school board in such matters is clear; the teachers must be protected from harassment, their professional competence must be respected. If a board feels that a teacher is incompetent to exercise good judgment in the choice of reading material for his class, then he should be fired.

But once employed, the teacher must be left free to develop his particular subject as he sees fit. One expects nothing less of a professional.

Neither timidity nor hysteria should be permitted to sway a school board from its basic function of acting as a buffer between the schools and the religious, patriotic and moral bigots. The increasing attacks on the schools by people of such character can be met by courageous and determined school boards who have a clear sense of their obligation to the faculty and student body.

It is, I believe, no accident that the schools have been chosen for such attacks. For whatever group can today impose its ideology upon the schools can tomorrow impose its will upon the country.

THE SCHOOLS are the main repository of our culture and our democratic traditions. If the bigoted and the intolerant have their way, the schools will become institutions of propaganda, dogma and prejudice. They will be known, of course, as super-American, but they will be as totalitarian as those under communism.

In short, we will have lost the battle.

Under our educational system, the school boards of this state are the most powerful bloc in the path of the hysterical tide now threatening to engulf the schools. We citizens can meet our obligation in this crisis by supporting those of our school boards who meet this challenge fearlessly and with high purpose.

And finally, we must elect representatives who will continue to protect our schools against this onslaught.

Nurses Are Needed!

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Contra Costa Medical Association is again offering nursing scholarships to students who have been graduated from high schools in Contra Costa County or who are graduating this year, according to Mrs. Irving Fien, chairman of the Nurse Recruitment and Scholarship Committee.

Members of the auxiliary, school nurses and interested members of the Health Careers program met with Mrs. Fenimore Davis at Mrs. Fien's home in Concord recently to formulate plans for the coming year.

Mrs. Davis is Health Careers chairman for the Woman's Auxiliary to the California Medical Association.

Scholarship awards are based on the candidate's need for financial assistance, personal aptitude and scholastic ability to meet the requirements of a professional nurse's training program. These scholarships may be used at any of the accredited schools of nursing in California.

Each high school in Contra Costa County and the two Junior Colleges have been contacted. Application should be sent in before April 5 in order for the Scholarship Committee to screen applicants and announce awards June 1.

Working with Mrs. Fien as co-chairmen are Mrs. Sol Draznin for east Contra Costa County and Mrs. Thomas St. George, west Contra Costa County.

Committee members include Mrs. William Flood and Mrs. James Fitzsimmons, Concord; Mrs. C. Bruno and Mrs. George Kelso, Pittsburg; Mrs. C. Liu, Orinda; Mrs. Walter Taylor and Mrs. H. Rampoldi, Martinez, and Mrs. Howard Flanders and Mrs. Charles J. Hart, Walnut Creek.

Members not connected with the auxiliary include each school nurse from the high schools and mothers of students interested in studying medicine.

Primary function of the Health Careers Committee is to further the interest of high school students in any of the many facets of medicine.

Scholarship funds are raised by means of the annual Flower Ball to be held May 12 at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

D.A. John Nejedly Marries Pamela Maloy in Yosemite

In the mountain setting of Yosemite Saturday, John Nejedly claimed Pamela Maloy of Berkeley as his bride.

The Contra Costa County district attorney and his bride said their vows in the Yosemite Valley Chapel with Superior Court Judge David Bush officiating.

Dr. Ben Dykes acted as best man.

The bride's wedding dress was fashioned of peau de soie and lace in a soft ecru shade. Her flowers were white orchids.

Among the 100 guests present at the ceremony and the reception following at the Ahwahnee Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Barnett of Lafayette and Dr. and Mrs. Harold Robinson of Walnut Creek, and their children. The new Mrs. Nejedly has a three-year-old son, Gregory, by a former marriage.

Irene Thies Fashions to Be Featured

Yankee Doodle's favorite colors, red, white, and blue, will highlight the Irene Thies fashion promenade at the Therapy Center Terrace Monday. Cruise and resort wear featuring dramatic styling will be shown to luncheon guests at noon and again at 1 p.m.

Miss Thies, owner of Petticoat Lane Shop in Walnut Creek promises a flurry of color in spring vacation fashions to be modeled by the Mesdames C. Wadsworth White, Ridgeway Woodburn, and Ray Bohannon. She will be assisted in coordinating this event by Mrs. Donald Smith of Lafayette and Mrs. William Danska of Orinda, both members of Cardinal Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Fashion luncheons are a Monday feature of the Terrace, which is located at 1475 East Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek. The tea room opens daily, except Sunday, for coffee at 10 a.m. Luncheon is served from noon until 2 p.m. Bridge or party reservations may be made by calling YE 5-0121.

The occupational and physical rehabilitation programs of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center are an all-unit project of the 17 therapy units.

Engagment Is Celebrated

More than 150 guests were invited to the engagement-announcement open house given Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brantley for their daughter, Sharon Louise at their home at 14 Sharmer Court, Walnut Creek.

Sharon is engaged to Second Lieutenant John L. Moore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Moore of Kirksville, Missouri. He is assigned to a civil engineers squadron at Travis Air Force Base and a graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, class of '61. He was on the dean's list and played football all four years at the academy, both end and guard positions.

Sharon, who wore a red silk sheath for her Valentine-inspired party, is a graduate of Las Lomas High School and received her teacher's credentials upon her graduation from San Jose State. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority and a president of the Little Sisters of Minerva, honorary women's society of SAE fraternity. She was homecoming princess at San Jose State in 1961.

"CANDLELIGHT AND WINE" will be served by these members of the Orinda Women's Club at an Italian supper February 17 at the Orinda Masonic Hall. They are, from the left, Mrs. James Burchell, party chairman, and Mrs. Patrick Henry and Mrs. Tom Myers. Sun photo by Bob Yost.

Hilltop Garden Club Will Meet

Hilltop Garden Club of Orinda will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Gordon F. Davidson of 8 El Verano to hear Robert Ralston, retired University of California professor, speak on all aspects of roses. His talk will be followed by an informal luncheon with Mrs. Clifford Davey and Mrs. Austin Smith.

Wallace Bradshaws Sail for Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bradshaw of 1164 Upper Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, sailed for Hawaii this week aboard the Matsonia, Matson Lines' luxury liner.

Have 'Fun With Fashions' At Mother's Club Event

Diminutive "Belles" of Santa Maria School in Orinda will join members of the Mothers' Club and Women's Guild in modeling Joseph Magnin's spring collection at a fashion show luncheon in the Garden Room of the Claremont Hotel Wednesday beginning at 11:30 a.m.

A Mardi Gras theme luncheon at 12:30 p.m. will accompany the "Fun With Fashions" show. This style luncheon is the club's first major social event and prime source of revenue toward the school fund.

Members promenading the ramp will be the Mesdames Donald Brandes, Paul Catti, John Epperson, Richard Erving Stanley Hubbard, Irving Moore, Marshall Moran, William Mutch, Robert Rushforth, E. P. Sawyer, Thomas Stack, Don White and John Wiegand.

The junior models are Athena Mason, Michele McGah, Jane Schnugg, Linda Schwarz, Marilyn Smith, Debbie Wiegand Teresa Zacharias, Dorothy Lincoln, Erin French and Janet Bergstedt.

Committee chairmen for the affair are the Mesdames William Billings and John Shields, special events; John Peabody, favors; Frank Gohr and Leon Poupeney, decorations; John Epperson and Roland Anderson, tickets, and Raymond Dittmeyer, publicity.

Mayor's Life Serene, But Filled With Activities

By HELEN SCHARMER

A quality of serenity pervades the atmosphere at the home of the Lenard Grote family of Pleasant Hill.

The new mayor of a new city his wife and two children, Lisa and Geoffrey, say the secret is "time out for time together." This they did just a few weeks ago when they took a snow trip to Giant Forest near King's Canyon.

In spite of the fact that they are former Chicago residents, the Grotes call themselves "snow bunnies" and spent their vacation time soaking up the view, playing in the snow and tobogganing.

AT HOME Mrs. Grote (Charlotte) enjoys baking with five-year-old Lisa, flower arranging and many community activities. She is an active member of the League of Women Voters and of the library committee at Fair Oaks School in the Mt. Diablo District.

She and a group of friends have formed a book study group and are currently studying J. D. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye." An assistant den mother in cub scouts, she was busy on the telephone the day of our interview helping with plans for a troop and family dinner that evening.

Mayor Lenard Grote works with Geoffrey's Cub Scout Troop after a busy day as a teacher of social sciences at Diablo Valley College. His new job as mayor of the city of Pleasant Hill means many social and civic duties for the couple.

WHEN ASKED what they would like to see improved in Pleasant Hill, a growing, bustling community of about 22,000 people, Charlotte answered, "I would like to see Highway 21 improved so that shoppers and homeowners may have access to the stores of Pleasant Hill without fighting traffic."

Lenard Grote says although recreational facilities are adequately managed now, he hopes that the city can give attention to providing additional land for recreational areas in the future.

THE GROTES have been residents of Lorenzo Place in Pleasant Hill for seven and one-half years. Both attended the University of Chicago. He was graduated there, and went on to become a teacher of history in a Springfield, Illinois, high school.

Grote says he is vitally interested in all aspects of city government and political affairs.

PLAY-TIME AND CRUISE WEAR will be featured Wednesday at the Republican Women's Club fashion luncheon at Mt. Diablo Country Club. Shown here checking the reservations list are: Left, Mrs. H. E. Goranson, president of the Lafayette Club; Mrs. William Dorsey, president of the Orinda Club, and Mrs. F. R. Edwards, Lafayette board member.

Alums Plan Luncheon

The East Bay Wellesley College will hold a luncheon meeting Monday at 1 p.m. in the Terrace Tea Room on East Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Robert Sibley, an alumna of the college and a recent traveler in Africa, will speak on the subject "In Search of West Africa." Fashions during the luncheon will be presented by Irene Thiess of Walnut Creek. Reservations may be made with Mrs. John Stauffer at CL 4-0325.

Cruise Wear Is Feature of Fashion Show

Republican women and their guests from all parts of the country are planning to attend the Cherry Blossom Fashion Luncheon Wednesday, at Diablo Country Club, according to Mrs. H. E. Goranson of Lafayette, who is in charge of reservations.

Thirteen Republican Women's Clubs are uniting for the event. They are Antioch, Central Contra Costa County, Crockett, Kensington, Lafayette, Martinez, Moraga Valley, Orinda, Pittsburg, Pleasant Hill, Richmond, San Ramon Valley and Walnut Creek.

Fashions to be shown will feature play-time and cruise wear, including some designer's originals keyed to new ideas for spring. Clothing will be furnished by Fashion Flair of Danville, with Mrs. Alvin W. Baker acting as commentator.

Mrs. Robert Goodale of Lafayette is in charge of the models, all members of participating clubs.

Promenading the ramp will be the Mesdames Paul Winn, Clifford Cleavelin, Bernard S. Ginsburg and W. D. Seifert Jr. of Orinda; O. Wadsworth White of San Ramon; Ridgeway Woodburn and A. K. George of Danville; Jack Dana of Walnut Creek, and E. Walton Kirk of Alamo.

Members of the Antioch and Pittsburg clubs will serve as hostesses for the luncheon. Tables will be arranged for groups of eight, 10 or 12, Mrs. Goranson said.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Goranson at 283-2798, Mrs. Lee Murray, YE 4-7928; Mrs. Charles Merlone, DR 6-4538, or Mrs. William Dorsey, CL 4-4225.

Party Editor to Lecture For Jr. Museum Alliance

Diablo Junior Museum Alliance will present Virginia Stanton of House Beautiful fame in a lecture on "Spring Entertaining With a Flair" February 26 at 10:30 a.m. at Mike Lynn's in Orinda.

A salad bar luncheon will be served following her talk on festive table setting and expert hostessing in general.

Miss Stanton, who lives in Carmel, is widely known in Bay Area circles, not only for her work as party editor for House Beautiful but also as party hostess for the Matson Lines.

Mrs. John Floyd is chairman for the event with Mrs. John Enright assisting her with luncheon arrangemets. Tickets for this dual event are $5 and reservations may be made with Mrs. Hollis McLaughlin at YE 5-1178.

Proceeds from this lecture-luncheon will help to finance the operation of the Diablo Junior Museum's Summer Workshop program for young people. The execution of the Junior Museum program is under the guidance of Dr. Ferd Ruth, who is also the museum's board president.

New members recently welcomed into the alliance will serve as hostess for the affair. They are: the Mesdames E. P. Sawyer, E. C. Harter, Frank Malley, Richard Ward and Donald Norman, all of Lafayette.

International Cuisine to Be Featured at Terrace

An epicurean tour of the world will be featured at the Therapy Center Terrace in Walnut Creek from Monday, February 26, through Saturday, March 3.

Menus for luncheon during this week will feature delicious specialties of foreign nations prepared from the terrace's collection of gourmet recipes. Countries to be saluted during the week include: China, Monday; Italy, Tuesday; India, Wednesday; Mexico, Thursday; France, Friday, and Germany, Saturday. Appropriate costumes will be donned by waitresses who are members of the units of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

"C'est magnifique, c'est printemps," the fashion show to be presented on Monday, February 26 at noon and again at 1 p.m., will also follow this international theme. New spring styles, inspired by continental fashions, will be shown by "La Femme" of Walnut Creek. Mrs. Harold Vincent, a member of the Flicker Unit, will coordinate the showing.

On Saturday, March 3, members of the Kaiser choral group will assist in the celebration by singing songs from around the world during luncheon.

To Hold Meeting

Harold Gilliam, author and lecturer, will speak at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Alameda County Unit of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association at the Hotel Claremont. Gilliam's book, "San Francisco Bay," won the Commonwealth Club medal in 1957 as the best book on California.

Simonsen-Englehard Wed In Community Church

A formal gown of peau de soie, lace and seed pearls with a shoulder veil held in place by a lace and pearl crown, was worn by Marilyn Ward Englehard when she became the bride of Navy Ensign Alfred Edward Simonsen.

The ceremony and reception took place in late December at the Orinda Community Church with Nancy Englehard, the bride's sister, as her only attendent.

Marilyn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Englehard of Orinda, carried a white Bible on which was arranged white orchids and stephanotis. Nancy was gowned in a Christmas red peau de soie sheath and carried a white fur muff to which was pinned a sprig of holly.

Alfred, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Simonsen of Pleasant Hill, had as best man Jim Trembath of San Francisco. The usher roles were filled by Bob Sulpizio of Richmond and Bill Frame of Berkeley.

The mother of the bride was dressed in beige lace trimmed with turquoise satin. Her accessories and feathered were of beige and she wore bronze orchids. The groom's mother wore a turquoise and silver sheath with matching accessories to which she pinned white orchids.

Ensign and Mrs. Alfred Simonsen, after a honeymoon to the Carmel area, left for Meridan, Mississippi, where Ensign Simonsen is presently stationed. They are both June graduates from the Unversity of California.

Women's Club Will Hear Howard Gilkey

The Garden Section of the Lafayette Women's Club will meet in the Masonic Building in Lafayette Tuesday at 1 p.m., according to Mrs. H. H. Hindman, chairman.

Howard Gilkey, designer and architect of the Oakland Spring Garden Show for many years, will present a review of this year's fete to be held April 28 to May 6. Howard Gilkey is a graduate of the University of California and has taught on the faculty as an assistant professor in the landscape department.

Anne Matson, Norman Emrich Are Engaged

The engagement of Carol Anne Matson to Norman Emrich has been announced by Anne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Matson of Pleasanton formerly of Lafayette. Norman is the son of John W. Emrich of La Casa Via in Walnut Creek and the late Mrs. Emrich.

Both are accomplished equestrians. Miss Matson was Cow Palace Queen at the Grand National Livestock Show held in San Francisco last fall.

She attend Mt. Diablo and Clayton Valley high shcools and now is attending Armstrong Business College in Berkeley. Sho is the granddaughter of Mrs. F. B. Wallace of Pleasanton and Berkeley, and the Late Mr. Wallace, the late Walter J. Matson Sr., and the late Mrs. L. R. Determan, and the great-granddaughter of the late Captain William Matson.

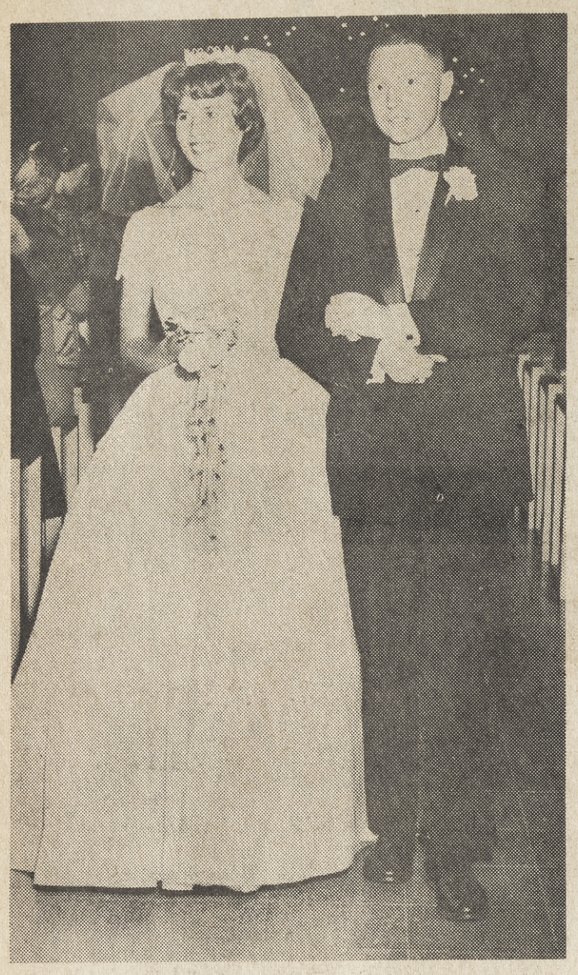
Rainy Weather Doesn't Interfere with Weddings, Engagements, Parties



MERIDIAN, Mississippi is now the home of newlyweds Ens. and Mrs. Alfred Simonsen, the former Marilyn Ward Englehard, of Orinda. They were married in late December at the Orinda Community Church. Ensign Simonsen is serving a tour of duty with the U. S. Navy.

ACALANES GRADUATE and former Orinda resident John A. Bohn Jr. is engaged to marry Barbara Neukom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Neukom of San Mateo. Pleasant Hill, Falcons Both Lose Friday's Games

Pittsburg went on a scoring rampage, ripping lowly Pacifica, 89-44, to maintain its one-game lead in the Contra Costa Division of the DVAL in a game last Friday.

In other Friday night games, Antioch maintained its hold on second place, thumping College Park, 54-36, while Pleasant Hill was taking it on the chin for the seventh time in eight games, 39-28, to Mt. Diablo.

PACIFICA 44

Pittsburg outscored the Spartans, 20-6, in the first quarter then added 19. 23 and 27 to run up the lopsided score.

Pacifica actually outscored the front-running Pirates, 21-19, in a wild second quarter, but the first period scoring drought had finished the Spartans. They could only muster 19 points in the second half.

Ten players got into the scoring act for Pitt with guard Frank Bruno getting 27.

Jim Morris had 18 for Pacifica.

ANTIOCH 54
COLLEGE PARK 36

The Falcons' chances of a high finish in the CCD went fluttering out the window as a sputtering offense betrayed them against second place Antioch.

Antioch jumped out on top, 18-8, after one period and after College Park had stayed in contention through the second quarter, the Panthers outscored the Falcons, 14-4, in the third period to put the game away.

It was 28-20 at the half.

Butch Rounsaville and Jerry Circo paced the winner with 15 points each.

Mickey Sytkowski, who scored 36 points Tuesday against Pittsburg, topped College Park with 12.

Bob Ament had 10 more for the losers.

College Park is now 3-6 in CCD play and tied for fifth place with Pacifica.

MT. DIABLO 39
PLEASANT HILL 28

The only real scoring in the game came in the second quarter as Mt. Diablo posted 19 points to take a lead they held the rest of the way.

Pleasant Hill had jumped to a 9-5 first quarter lead, but then was on the short end, 24-20, at halftime.

Going into the final quarter, it was 28-25 for Mt. Diablo and any chance the Rams might have had disappeared as they could score only three points in the last eight minutes.

No Pleasant Hill player was in double figures.

Mt. Diablo broke a four-game losing streak with the victory and evened their CCD record at 4-4. It was the fifth straight loss for the Rams.

Shoe Stable Win Streak Snapped in Danville League; Race Tightens

Hottest team in the Danville Basketball League right now is Martinez, winner of four straight games after three opening defeats.

Martinez felled mighty Shoe Stable, winner of five straight games, easily, 77-51, holding 6-10 Camden Wall to 10 points.

A second win last week for Martinez was a 80-58 rout of Carter Glass.

The wins moved Martinez into a tie for third place with Diamond Building and Carter Glass. The top four teams in the league make the playoffs following the 12-game regular season schedule.

Shoe Stable kept its hold on first place by winning, however.

Aerojet picked up a game on the leaders by winning twice last week. They pinned Diamond, 51-50, in overtime, and 73-49 over winless Vern S. Ryan. Aerojet is now 5-2.

PEARSON Lumber won its first game of the season last week, nipping Carter, 44-41, but lost its fifth game the next night, 73-65, to Diamond.

Three doubleheaders are on tap next week.

Monday, Martinez and Pearson play the 7:30 game with Ryan and Carter meeting in the second contest.

Tuesday, a Shoe Stable and Aerojet meet in a showdown battle in the first game. In the second, Pearson clashes with Aerojet.

Acalanes basketball coach Bert Barnett paced Martinez last week. He scored 28 points in the upset of Shoe Stable and added 19 more the following night against Carter. Dave McKosker had 23 points for Martinez against Carter while Barnett had help from brother Hal against Shoe Stable. H. Barnett chipped in with 13 and Bob Amauric, 6-9 pivotman, had 11. Amauric had 17 against Carter.

Dick Johnson and Joyn Stimel each had 18 points for Stable in a losing cause.

Bobby Dold paced Carter with 16 and Will Strong chipped in with 14 against Martinez.

IN THE FIRST overtime since the league was organized in 1959, Aerojet nosed out Diamond after the score was tied at the end of regulation time.

Herb Kiger and Bill Lloyd paced the winners with 18 and 15 points respectively.

Lloyd had 23 in the rout of Ryan the following night.

The league's new scoring champion, Ron Thom, paced Pearson to its first win by scoring 21 points against Carter. He had help from George Colburn who had 17 as the two players scored all but six of their team's points.

Will Strong had 16 for the losers.

Diamond got balanced scoring from Roger Pliler, John Longaker and Bob Gomez who scored 21, 19 and 13 respectively, to defeat Pearson the following night.

Jim Maggart had 19 and Bob Hedgcock 14 for Pearson.

Knights Rip Mats

Las Lomas put the presure on idle Piedmont by winning its eighth Foothill League game against one defeat, 47-34, over Miramonte Friday night.

Piedmont is 6-2 with the teams meeting in Piedmont Tuesday afternoon. The Knights are just three games away from their second straight FAL title.

In other Friday night games, Acalanes and John Paul Jones went on a scoring rampage, routing visiting Alhambra, 83-47, while San Ramon rallied to dump Del Valle, 56-42, and maintain its hold on third place.

LAS LOMAS 47
MIRAMONTE 34

The Knights wasted no time dispersing any upset ideas the Matadors might have been harboring, outscoring their guests, 14-7, in the opening period.

There was no doubt from the start which team was superior. In their first meeting, Las Lomas won 45-34 when they held Miramonte without a field goal in the last quarter.

Last Friday's game was decided by halftime. The Knights added 19 more points in the second quarter while Miramonte could muster only six and Las Lomas had the game in the bag. It was 33-13 at the half.

The loss was the most decisive defeat of the year for coach Herb Graw's team. Miramonte, plagued by tough luck all season, had lost two FAL games in overtime and two others by a total of five points.

However, against Las Lomas, the Mats were never in the game. They outscored their hosts in the last two quarters, but never got close..

Las Lomas center Bob Nichols connected on nine freethrows and finished with 19 points for the night. Bob Kreider hit for five field goals as the two players combined for as many two-pointers as the whole Miramonte team could score.

Bruce Nickerson paced Miramonte with 11 points.

The Mats are now 2-6.

ACALANES 83
ALHAMBRA 47

With Jones pouring through 39 points. Acalanes had no trouble whatsoever from Alhambra in a battle for fourth place in the FAL.

Acalanes is now 4-4 while Alhambra is 3-6.

On Tuesday, Jones pumped in 29 points as the Dons bowed to Piedmont.

Jones hit on 70 per cent of his shots as he connected 15 times from the floor. He added nine free-throws for good measure.

The two scoring performances marked the full recovery of the sharp-shooting senior guard who seemingly could not shake off the effects of a battle with the flu prior to last week.

Guard Walt Cardinet was the other top scorer for the Dons. He posted 15 points. The two guards now have topped the Acalanes offense for the third straight game.

Eight other players got into the scoring act as coach Bert Barnett cleared the bench after his regulars rolled up 52 points in the first half.

It was 26-13 at the end of one quarter.

Forward Jim Hammett and guard Tom Quontamatteo paced the Bulldogs as they have done all year. Hammett had 16 and Quontamatteo 13.

Although out of the title chase, Acalanes will be meeting Las Lomas February 27 with a chance to nail down third place against San Ramon March 2 in its finale.

SAN RAMON 56
DEL VALLE 42

The Wolves refused to be shaken by an unusual scoring burst on the part of the Trojans in the first quarter, settling down to put the game on ice at the end of three periods.

Del Valle doubled San Ramon's point total in the first quarter, 18 9, but suddenly lost its shooting eye, scoring just two points in the second quarter.

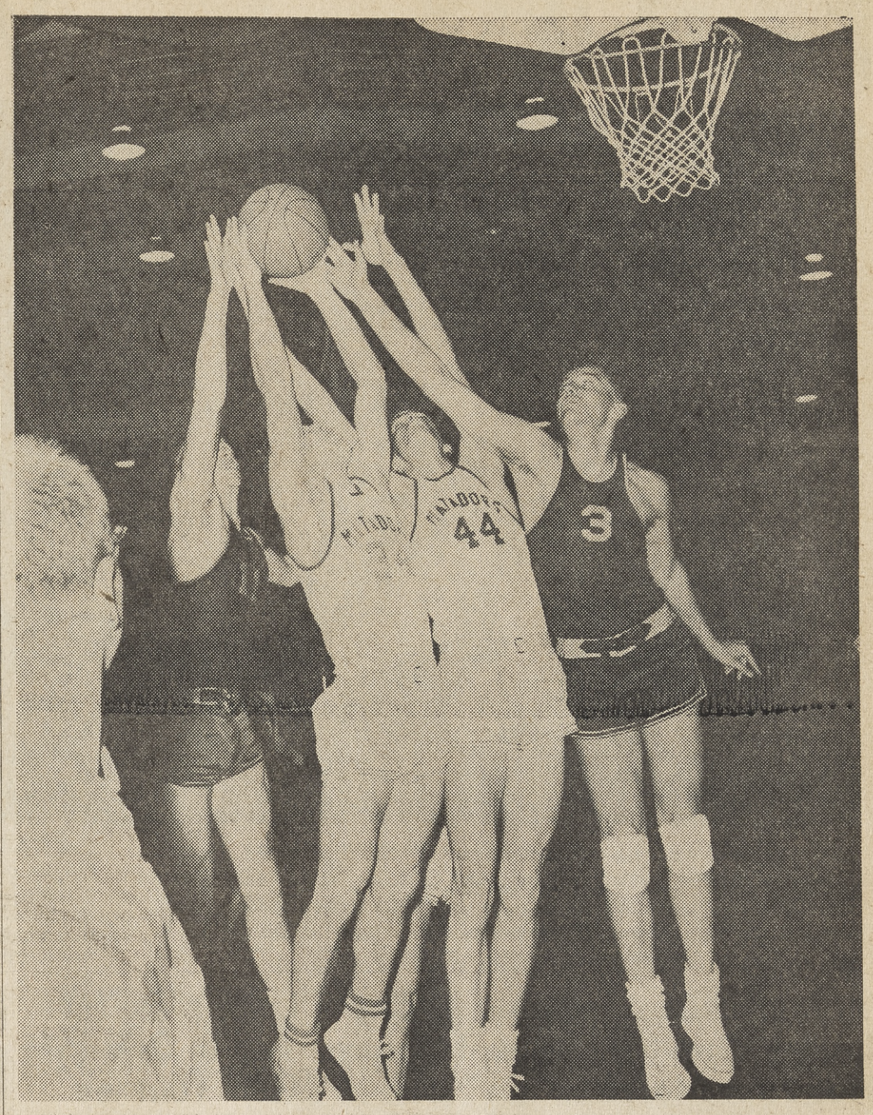
San Ramon outscored the Trojans, 15-2, to take a 24-20 halftime lead which they never relinquished.

In the third quarter, the Wolves finished off their opponents, scoring 21 points while giving up just 10.

Forward Don Rice picked up 10 points via free-throws and finished with 20 for the evening.

He had help from center Jim Howell who had 13 and guard Bob Metez who had 10.

Bob Kovats paced the losers with 14 while Bob Colwell and Bill O'Toole had 11 and 10 respectively.



THIS REBOUND BATTLE appears to be won by Jim Lewis (34) of Miramonte with Eric Unruh (44) right there to help out. Bob Nichols (11) and Jerry Nordeman (3) of Las Lomas lost out this time, but won most of the rebound battles during the game as the Knights won easily, 47-34.

Texaco Takes 1st Half Cage Title In PH League

Jack and Leo Texaco won its seventh straight game in the A League of the Pleasant Hill Adult Basketball League last week to clinch first place as first half play came to a close.

The Untouchables were Texaco's victim, 59-48.

The winners led, 11-10, at the quarter and 30-22 at the half before putting the game away in the third quarter, outscoring the Untouchables, 18-10.

John Fields paced the winners with 22 points. Larry Reagan had 15 for the Untouchables.

Lou and Jess Barbers clinched second place, edging winless "65" Club, 67-65.

The winners got balanced scores from four starters who hit in double figures. Jim Roscoe topped both teams with 19 points. Jim Brooks had 15; Lee Anderson, 13, and Ed Ulrich, 12.

FOUR of the losers also were in double figures. Steve Norwood paced his team with 16 points. Bob Pool had 13 while Bo Davis and Ed Laufenberg each had 11.

Danville Cement rolled up a 31-7 lead after one quarter then romped to a 93-44 win over North American Title in another A game last week.

Ron Thom paced the winners with 24 points. He had help from Jim Maggart who finished with 20 points and from Joe McElroy and George Colburn who had 18 and 17 points, respectively.

Russ Kennerly was practically the whole show for the losers, scoring 22 points. Tulie Barnum chipped in with 12 more.

The Yang Yangs grabbed a third place tie in the first half by edging Champion Plumbing, 60-57. The winners trailed at the half, 35-26, but outscored Champion, 21-14 and 13-8 in the last two quarters.

Dick Dole and Ken Twettier each had 16 points for the winners while Bob Jenson helped out with 12 more.

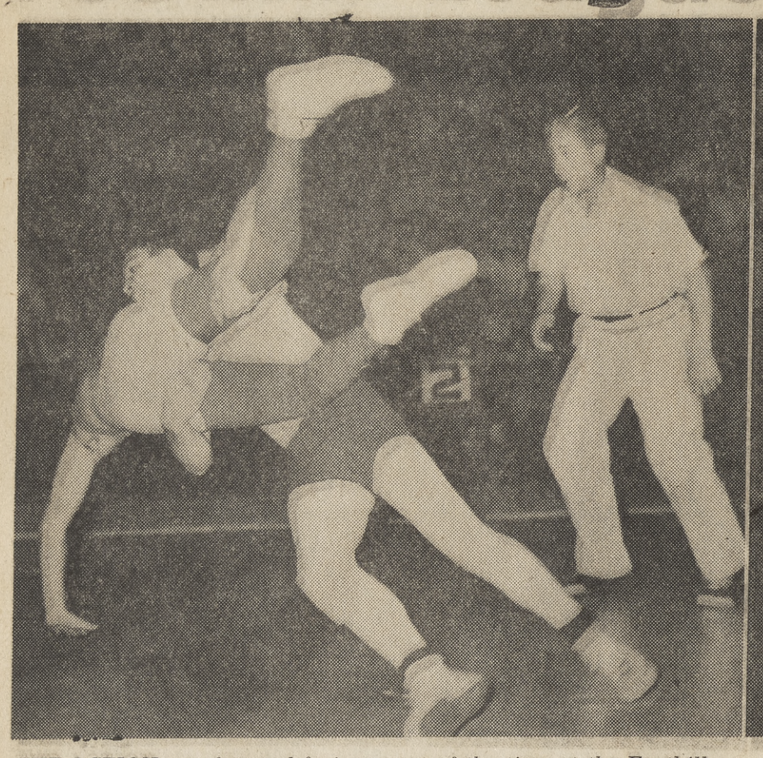
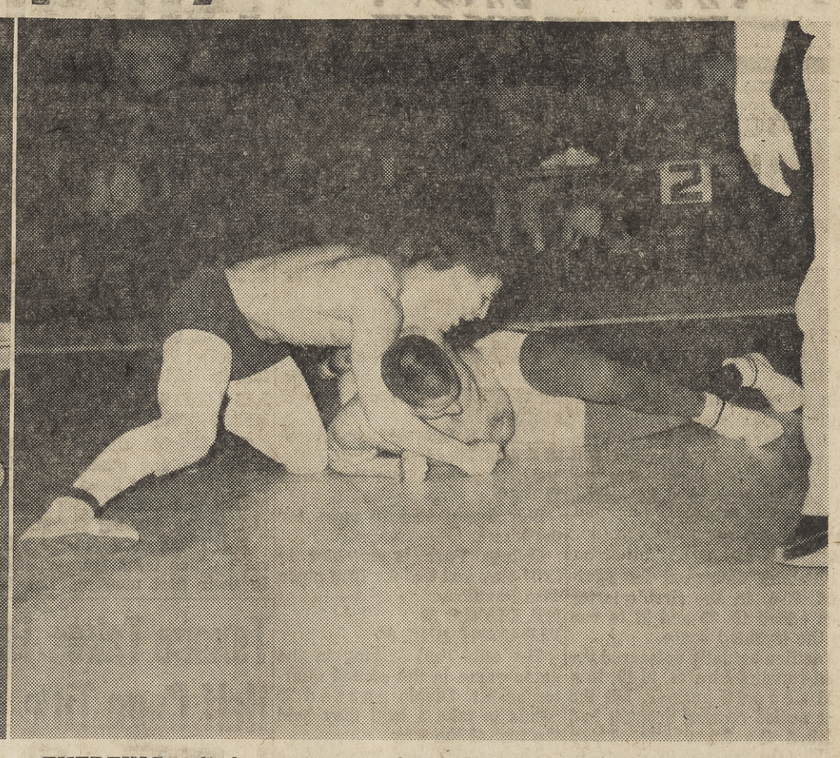
Foothill League Wrestlers Display Their Skills



THE ACTION was fast and furious most of the time at the Foothill League wrestling tournament held last Saturday at the Las Lomas High School gymnasium. In this picture, Dean Hilger of Miramonte is about to slam Vincent Principee of Las Lomas to the canvas in the 168-pound championship match. Hilger won.

HIS FACE shows how he feels about the whole thing — Mike Sorem of Miramonte is on the receiving end as Bob Crutcher of San Ramon hits him to the canvas. Crutcher defeated Sorem in the 178-pound division for the championship. He was one of two champs from the Danville school. Both men qualified for the North Coast meet.



EXERTING a little pressure on his opponent is Dean Hilger of Miramonte on his way to the 168-pound FAL championship. Taking the punishment is Vincent Principee of Las Lomas, who was defeated by Hilger in this match for the league title. Acalanes won the team title in the tournament.

Walnut Hills Ladies' Group Has First Match

Mrs. Jean Olsen was the winner of the first tournament held by the Walnut Hill Country Club ladies' golf group.

Mrs. Olsen shot a 72-12-60.

Finishing in a tie for second place were Mrs. Florabel Clough and Mrs. Helen Gehring. Mrs. Clough had a 72-11-61 while Mrs. Gehring was 99-38-61.

More than 30 ladies joined the group at its organizational meeting two weeks ago.

The first tourney was held last Thursday.

Diablo Ladies Tie in Tourney

Mrs. Art Brunckhorst and Mrs. Lloyd Rossi each shot 31 and tied for top honors in the Best Nine Holes out of Twelve Played Tournament last week in the Diablo Women's Golf Group.

Mrs. Thomas Pickett and Mrs. Ron Patten each shot 32 and tied for third place.

Mrs. Nick Carter used only 16 putts for the 12 holes and won the Low Putts section of the tourney.

Ladies Tie for Top in Orinda Golf Tourney

Mrs. W. M. Carter and Mrs. W. L. Calhoun tied for first place in Class A at the Orinda Country Club Ladies' Day Odd Holes tourney last week.

Mrs. J. P. Thomas finished third.

In Class B, Mrs. T. E. Haws was the winner. Mrs. W. G. Jeffrey was second and Mrs. R. D. Graffis was third.

Mrs. J. H. Cadien took the honors in Class C. Finishing second was Mrs. M. C. Green. Mrs. M. R. Colwell was third.

It's College Park by a Point in CCD Wrestling

College Park nosed out Mt. Diablo to win the Contra Costa Division (DVAL) wrestling tournament last Saturday at Antioch.

Falcon wrestlers scored 93 points with Mt. Diablo just one point back.

Pleasant Hill, undefeated in league competition, finished in a third place tie with Pittsburg. Both teams had 87 points.

Other scorers were: Clayton Valley, 67; Pacifica, 59, and Antioch, 29.

College Park had just two champions, but 10 of the 11 Falcon wrestlers entered finished in the scoring brackets of first, second, third or fourth.

Pleasant Hill and Pitt both had four champions while Clayton Valley, Pacifica and second place Mt. Diablo had one each.

The top two wrestlers in each weight division qualifies for the North Coast Section tournament tomorrow at Castro Valley.

North Coast qualifiers:

98—1. John Shinault, Pleasant Hill; 2. Mickey Maxwell, College Park.

106—1. Terry Werner (PH), 2. Russ Sipes (CP).

Donna Sets Two Swim Marks at Alameda Meet

Lafayette's Donna deVarona has started off the new swimming season in fine form—setting two records and tying another in the Alameda Naval Air Station Swimming Meet last weekend.

Donna did the 100-yard freestyle in 57.7 seconds and the 100-yard butterfly in 1:03.8 to erase AAU, National and Pacific Association (AAU) and meet records for those events.

She tied her own national record of 1:06.1 in the 100-yard backstroke earlier.

Miss deVarona competed in the girls 13-14 age group section of the meet.

She also won the 200-yard individual medley, her speciality, to wind up with four firsts in the two-day meet.

Her time for the medley was 2:26.5.

Pete Schnugg of Orinda, swimming for the Aquabears, took the 50-yard freestyle event for boys 10 and under with a time of 28.9.

Acalanes Wins Foothill Wrestling Tournament

Acalanes captured the Foothill League wrestling tournament at Las Lomas Saturday by scoring 166 points.

Miramonte finished second with 130 points.

Five FAL teams have wrestling teams. Las Lomas finished third with 88 points, San Ramon had 63 and Del Valle, 31.

Wrestlers finishing first and second in the FAL tournament automatically qualify for the North Coast Section tournament which will be held at Castro Valley tomorrow.

On February 24, the NorCal high school invitational will be hel at San Jose State College.

Acalanes picked up four firsts in the 13 divisions.

However, Miramonte had five firsts.

The other four firsts were divided by San Ramon and Las Lomas.

Acalanes qualified 11 wrestlers for the North Coast tourney while Miramonte qualified eight more.

Las Lomas had three qualifiers while Del Valle and San Ramon each had two.

Saturday's summary follows:

The complete summary:

98—1. Tom French, Miramonte; 2. John Turman, Miramonte; 3. Noel Sullivan, Acalanes; 4. Roger Stephenson, Las Lomas.

106—1. Pete Sharon, Acalanes; 2. Glen Bruno, Acalanes; 3. George McNealy, Las Lomas; Steve Eide, Miramonte.

115—1. Steve Flynn, Las Lomas; 2. Chris McNulty, Acalanes; 3. Ed Seitz, San Ramon; 4. Bob Lewis, Del Valle.

123—1. Rick Cannon, Miramonte; 2. Rick Butler, Acalanes; 3. Tom Fisher, Acalanes; 4. Bill Cantrill, Miramonte.

130—1. Doug Southworth, Acalanes; 2. Frank Broadhead, Acalanes; 3. George Graham, Miramonte; 4. Gary Riegg, Las Lomas.

136—1. Leland Scott, Acalanes; 2. Al Fox, Acalanes; 3. Barry Burlingame, Las Lomas; 4. Steve Abbott, Miramonte.

141—1. Rick Merrian, Miramonte; 2. Quentin Young, Acalanes; 3. Mike Roach, Acalanes; 4. Dave Reed, Las Lomas.

148—1. Norris Widener, Miramonte; 2. Munn Hinds, Acalanes; 3. Rich Johnson, San Ramon; 4. Bruce Haver, Miramonte.

157—1. Jeff Davis, Acalanes; 2. John Schofield, Del Valle; 3. Pete Parrish, Miramonte; 4. Mike Cameron, Del Valle.

168—1. Dean Hilger, Miramonte; 2. Vince Prencipe, Las Lomas; 3. Lou Encalada, Acalanes; 4. Rick Smith, San Ramon.

178—1. Bob Crutcher, San Ramon; 2. Mike Soren, Miramonte; 3. Dick Holden, Acalanes; 4. Dave Cotlow, Las Lomas.

194—1. Chuck Husted, San Ramon; John Valpreda, Miramonte; 3. Jim Bryant, Del Valle; 4. Farry Granzotto, Las Lomas.

Unlimited—1. Craig Leidy, Las Lomas; 2. Ken Roberts, Del Valle; 3. Jerry Stephens, San Ramon; 4. Rick Underwood, Acalanes.

Rain, rain, don't go away

WE'RE STORING IT FOR A SUMMER'S DAY! Wet, wonderful water! Each day, farms, families and factories use it up in million-gallon gulps. PG&E helps satisfy this thirst by storing rain and snow water in high mountain reservoirs. Ordinarily this water would flow to the sea unused . . . sometimes with destructive floods. Instead, we release much of the stored water to generate electricity at just the time when California is thirstiest—in summer. In this way, PG&E's "rainy-day savings" pay off for water users downstream while helping keep your PG&E service a bargain.

Three Teams in Running for FAL Title

The Ski Line . . . .

The Snow Is Available-- Enjoy the Long Weekend

By HEC HANCOCK

The series of storms that have buffeted the Sierra the past two weeks have built the snow pack up until it is now navel high to a tall elephant.

For the first time in over four years, there appears to be no reason to worry about snow conditions for the balance of the ski year. In fact, the prospects are bright for a season extending well into May.

It's the same old story, it's either feast or famine.

This weekend marks the second anniversary of the Winter Olympics held in 1930 at Squaw Valley.

For a prolonged time preceding and following the games, Squaw Valley was the subject of considerable controversy. Cost of developing the necessary facilities was felt by many to be excessive.

Whether they were or weren't is a mute question as far as I am concerned.

The point is, as anyone that attended the events can testify, the games were a great artistic success. The courses were excellent, the entire facilities great.

Now that the Olympic Games of 1960 are but a fond memory, Squaw Valley has become a state park, and the big hub-bub is all but forgotten.

Over 1,200,000 people visited the area during 1961, and at least 1,500,000 are expected during the present year.

The ice arena is available to the public, the dormitories have been converted to reasonably priced hotel rooms, and the ski courses are there for those that have an affinity for falling down elevator shafts.

Thus, after all the hue and cry, the Squaw Valley issue has resolved itself, and the people of California have a major winter resort area for their enjoyment.

Looks to me as though the whole deal was a pretty good thing.

Speaking of Olympics, it is not entirely coincidental that the Barrel Stave Olympics will be held this weekend at Powder Bowl. All the pageantry usually attendant to such events will be present.

Lovely young girl skiers, clad in red leotards, will carry the flaming torch from Alpine Meadows to light the fire for the games.

Competition is open to teams of three. Contestants must be over 18, and at least one member of each team must be 21.

The courses will be set side by side, and will have several gates in common. Since the two racers will run the course simultaneously, a policy of "first come, first served" has been adopted.

The results should prove interesting.

Barrel staves will be provided contestants at Powder Bowl, and refreshments will be available.

Something a little different that sounds like a lot of fun.

Speaking of winter games pageantry, The Reno Winter Carnival conducted at Mt. Rose last week was opened by a procession of skiers bearing torches skiing down the slope.

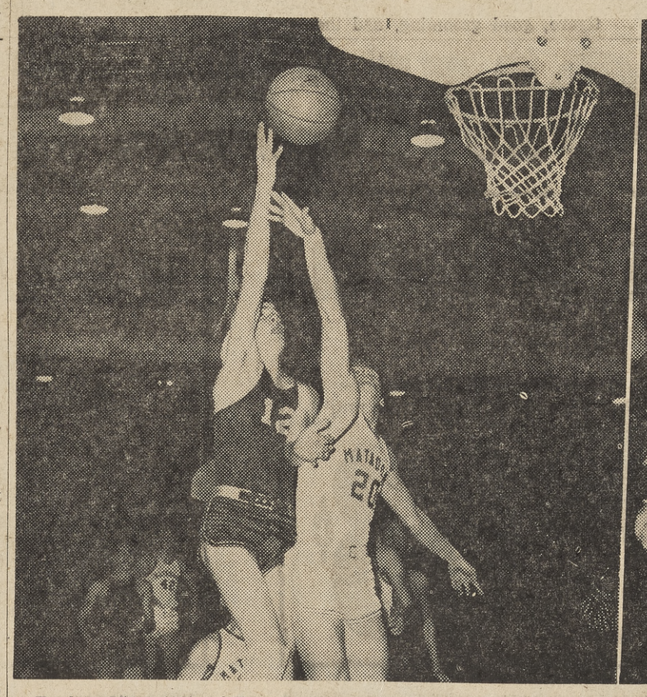
Walnut Creek was represented in the festivities in the person of Rick Miles, who was one of the torch bearers. Rick is presently attending the University of Nevada.

Those youngsters that weren't able to make it up to the snow country over the Lincoln Birthday weekend (there couldn't have been many!), will have another opportunity this coming week. Washington's birthday is this coming Thursday, and many church and youth groups, families and school organizations will take advantage of the time off, to take off for the high country.

Those who are planning to take advantage of the single day off on Washington's Birthday, shouldn't choose a skiing site strictly on the basis of proximity. The fact that the area may be a few miles closer, is in many cases more than offset by routes that have much more freeways, particularly those with freeways through the mountains.

Highway 40, which leads to the Donner Summit area, for example, has less than ten miles of non-freeway highway. This means that under normal conditions, the trip can easily be made in 3½ hours.

With conditions such as these, you just can't afford to stay home!



Richie Nye (12) of Las Lomas goes high in the air and despite the efforts of a Miramonte defender he scores two points. There was much more of the same throughout the game, as the Knights won, 47-34, with little trouble.

Sun photos by Bob Rush.

Las Lomas Still Leads; Clan Could Tie Tonight

By GEORGE COLBURN
Sports Editor

Going into the home stretch, Las Lomas and Piedmont are in a virtual tie for first place in the Foothill League.

Las Lomas has half a step on the Clan, however. The Knights are 8-2, with two games to play.

The Clan has three games left. They are 7-2.

Even though they play one less game than Piedmont, Las Lomas has the tougher road to travel.

Piedmont meets Alhambra tonight and if the Scots come out on top, the FAL race is all even. Las Lomas has a bye tonight.

The Clan's final opponents are Del Valle and San Ramon.

THE WOLVES still have an eye on the FAL title—or at least a share of it.

They are just one game back of the leaders with a 6-3 record—and they play both Las Lomas and Piedmont. Wins over both opponents would assure the Wolves of a title share and make a three-way tie for the title a possibility.

Las Lomas has two real tough games to go. Wednesday night, the Knights travel to Danville to battle San Ramon.

San Ramon was the first team to defeat Las Lomas and they did it in fine style on the Knights' home court, 51-43.

Las Lomas winds up its schedule against Acalanes, out of the running, but always dangerous. The Knights edged the Dons, 64-63, in their first meeting.

THE DONS will be out to avenge that first loss and save face for a rather disappointing season.

And with John Paul on a scoring binge, the Dons might just throw a money wrench into the title hopes of the Knights.

The game, a week from Tuesday, is at Acalanes' home court—where the Dons have lost only once this year.

Tonight in the FAL, the Del Valle is at Acalanes and San Ramon visits Miramonte.

The Wolves can't afford to look past the Matadors. If they do, any chance for a title share might go right out the window.

Because of the holiday next Thursday, all FAL teams will play night games on Wednesday.

LAS LOMAS is at San Ramon in the FAL feature while Del Valle travels to Piedmont and Acalanes is at Miramonte.

Over in the Contra Costa Division, College Park hosts Pacifica tonight while Pleasant Hill is at Antioch.

Wednesday night, College Park and Pleasant Hill square off in an inter-city battle.

Although there is nothing at stake, the two teams will be playing for prestige and it should be a good battle. College Park won the first time around.

UOP Scholarships Go to Three DVC Football Players

Three Diablo Valley College Viking football players have accepted athletic scholarships to University of Pacific.

The scholarships are worth approximately $1900.

Recipients are Wally Busch, tackle from Walnut Creek; end John Rogers and halfback Smiley Verduzco.

The three players accepted an invitation sent by Don Campora, assistant coach at University of Pacific, to visit UOP. Soon after they accepted the scholarships. All three are now enrolled in the spring semester at University of Pacific.

Sophomores Busch and Rodgers are Viking veterans. They were honored with all-conference berths this fall. Verduzco, a freshman, severely injured his knee early in the second game of the season. He has an older brother, Charles, who starred on the Pacific varsity, and now serves as an assistant coach.

John Rodhe, head coach at University of Pacific, plans to use Busch as a guard or tackle, Rodgers as an end and Verduzco as a wingback.

Pitt Belts PH, 78-64; Keeps Lead

Hitting 78 per cent of their shots in the first half, Pittsburg ran over a game Pleasant Hill team Tuesday afternoon, 78-64, to maintain its lead in the Contra Costa Division.

Second place Antioch kept alive its title aspiration by posting a 61-52 win over Pacifica. In the other league game, Mt. Diablo moved past Clayton Valley in league standing, whipping the Eagles, 46-34.

For Pittsburg, it was the third straight game they have run up big scores. First it was College Park, 76-63, then Pacifica, 89-44, and Tuesday it was Pleasant Hill falling before the Pirates' murderous fast break.

The Rams played well, but it wasn't enough to match the league leaders.

PITT IS now 8-1 with Pleasant Hill buried in last place with an opposite record of 1-8.

Pitt had rolled up 49 points by halftime, outscoring the Rams, 23-16 and 26-16 in the first two quarters. The Pirates connected on 22 of 28 shots in that half for their fantastic 78 per cent average.

They "cooled" in the second half, only hitting 43 per cent.

Pleasant Hill outscored Pittsburg in the second half, 18-17 and 14-12, but the game had already been decided.

Frank Bruno and Mike Daye paced the Pirates with 18 points each.

Al Oxley of Pleasant Hill, playing an unfamiliar guard spot, found some shooting room and scored 24 points. He had 10 field goals.

St. Mary's Moves Two Games Up on WCAC Opponents

Unheralded St. Mary's College moved two games in front of the pack in the West Coast Athletic Conference with three wins in the past 10 days.

St. Mary's is now 5-0 with Loyola and Pepperdine sharing second place with 4-2 records.

The Gaels have seven league games left on their schedule.

If the Gaels are to stay on top of the WCAC, the next three games will tell the story. All three are on the road—and against three tough opponents.

Tomorrow night at the San Jose Civic Center, St. Mary's battles arch-rival Santa Clara before heading down south for games with Loyola and Pepperdine on February 23 and 24.

ST. MARY'S got a boost in the right direction during the semester holiday when it was announced that San Jose State had to forfeit all its WCAC games because they had played with an ineligible player.

The Gaels had been defeated by the Spartans and the forfeit gave the Moraga team a 2-0 record. They had defeated the University of Pacifica, 76-65, for the other win.

Steve Gray's 32 points and last-second shot gave the Gaels a 71-70 win over league-leading Loyola last Wednesday night. The Lions were 3-0 going into the game.

He added 26 more last Saturday night as the Gaels spurted past USF, 74-59, with a second half surge.

Tuesday night, the Gaels defeated UOP for the second time, 74-62, with Hamilton Holmes scoring 30 points and Gray adding 26 more.

Piedmont Routs Knights; Moves Close to the Top

Piedmont moved into a virtual tie with Las Lomas for first place in the Foothill League with a convincing, 51-31, win Tuesday afternoon in Piedmont.

A Las Lomas win would have given the Knights a sure tie for the title with only two games left on its schedule.

San Ramon remained in contention by virtue of the Piedmont win. The Wolves are 6-3.

THE GAME was the only one scheduled in the FAL Tuesday because of the holiday.

The two schools moved the game up from an original March 2 date, but coach Ed Strelow of Las Lomas is probably wishing he still had the game on his upcoming list.

His Knights just weren't in form.

They stayed with the Clan through the first quarter, but never got close after a horrible second quarter when Piedmont scored 20 points and the Knights could muster only seven. It was 9-8 for Piedmont at end of the opening quarter.

Guard Rick Prestwood was the big gun for Piedmont. He scored 13 points in the first half as the Clan took a commanding lead and then finished with 20 for the game. Bob Wolfe chipped in with 10 more, with Steve Hogan adding eight.

Las Lomas played a little better in the second half, but still was outscored 11-8 in both second half periods.

Center Bob Nichols paced the Knights with 13 points.

The best his teammates could do was six points for guard Greg Bertagnolli.

Falcons' JVs Edge Antioch

Paul Fitzgerald scored 10 points to lead the College Park junior varsity to a thrilling, 47-46, victory over Antioch last Friday.

The Falcons were defeated Tuesday by Pittsburg, 61-52. Sam Martinelli was high point man with 12 tallies.

The JV's have a season record of 3-5.

The College Park frosh met with its eighth straight loss against Pleasant Hill, 34-22.

Falcon Keith Ball scored 11 points.

Tim Conger and Jim Forney scored 13 and 11 points respectively for the Rams.

The victory evened up the season for the Rams at 4-4.

PH JVs Halt Eagles' Streak

Pleasant Hill's junior varsity ended a 13-game win streak of Clayton Valley's last Tuesday with a 38-34 victory.

Keith Harris was the high scorer for the Rams with 12. Teammates Mark Perrin and Pete Hall added eight tallies to the winning effort.

The Rams won their fifth straight against Mt. Diablo, 37-33, last Friday.

Pete Hall and Mark Perrin were high scorers with 11 and 10 respectively.

It took a great effort by the Rams to overcome a final period deficit of eight points in achieving the win.

The JV's are 5-2 in league play.

Captains DCC Women's Group

Mrs. Jack Davis of Alamo is the new captain of the Diablo Country Club Women's Golf Group, it was announced recently.

Other new officials of the group are: Mrs. Forrest Knights. Berkeley, tournament chairman; Mrs. Ted Beem, Danville, handicaps; Mrs. Tom Long, Alamo, secretary; Mrs. Charles Cooper, Danville, recorder; Mrs. G. Kufahl, Oakland, treasurer.

DVC Seeks Fifth League Win Tonight

Diablo Valley College will be seeking to even its league record tonight when they host Cabrillo College at 8 p.m. in the DVC gym.

The Vikings absorbed their fifth Coast Conference defeat in nine games Tuesday night at DVC, losing 63-60, to San Jose City College.

It was the Viks' second defeat of the year to San Jose.

DVC has five league games left on its schedule.

Cabdillo defeated the Vikings in their first meeting at Watsonville.

Tom Nichols scored 21 points in a losing cause Tuesday against San Jose. The Vikings trailed all the way. It was 35-25 at the half.

DVC got within five points of San Jose, 45-41, midway through the second half, but couldn't close the gap any further.

San Coston had 11 points and George Smylie, nine, for the Vikings. Frank Staton and Eddie Sims paced San Jose with 20 and 19 points respectively.

Acalanes Upsets Alhambra--Mats Take FAL-B Lead

Miramonte remained in first place in the Foothill B League with a 35-25 victory over hosting Las Lomas last Friday.

Center Jeff Anderson and forward Pete Boyle provided 15 and 13 points respectively for the Mats.

Knights Rich Bovo and Gary Ware were high scorers for Las Lomas. Bovo had eight and Ware tallied seven.

Del Valle notched two victories last week. It defeated Las Lomas on Tuesday, 44-37, and San Ramon on Friday, 39-34.

Vic DeChico was high scorer for the Trojans in both games with 14 and 17 points in the repective contests.

Bovo was again high scorer for the Knights with 19.

BILL RENSHAW led the Wolves with 13 followed by Tom Benson with 10.

Acalanes skipped by Alhambra, 36-24, to give Miramonte a game lead. The loss knocked Alhambra out of a first place tie.

Jim Medak paced the Acalanes win with 14 points.

Church Teams Meet in All-Star Games Tomorrow

With the regular season completed, the YMCA Church League will hold a post-season, all-star tournament tomorrow evening at the Pleasant Hill High School gymnasium.

There will be four games—two at 7 p.m. and two at 8 p.m.

Suburban Youth Crusaders, winner of the High School League, and undefeated in seven regular season games will play the feature game against a team of all stars from their league.

The game will be played at 8 p.m.

At 7 p.m., the Suburban Youth Knights will battle a team of "second team" all stars from their league.

The Knights finished with a 5-2 league record.

Also at 7 p.m. Suburban Bible, winner of the Mixed League, will meet United Bretheren.

At 8 p.m. Hillside Covenant and Concord Nazarene, two teams who tied for second place in the Mixed League, will try to settle their deadlock.

Matadors Edge Knights---Take First in JV

Miramonte took possession of first place in the Foothill Junior Varsity League by defeating Las Lomas, 33-27, last Friday.

It was the first defeat for the Knights which are 4-1.

Tevis Thompson sparked the Mats with 12 points. Glen Tobias and Bill Smith added eight and seven respectively for the win. The Mats are 3-0.

Steve Miles tallied 11 for the losing Knights.

San Ramon squeaked by Del Valle, 33-32, for its second win in five games.

Don Hammond and Ron Hunt had nine points each for the Wolves.

Bill Sargent scored 10 for the Trojans. Del Valle is 1-5.

DVC to Offer Instruction at WC Rec. Center

An advanced, off-campus class in personal development will be offered one day a week at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, it was announced today by Miss Wilma Wright, Diablo Valley College instructor.

The class will meet from 2 to 4 p.m. each Wednesday during the spring semester. Interested persons may enroll at the Wednesday classes up to and including February 21.

Miss Wright's basic course, designed to increase the personal and vocational effectiveness of the individual, will cover such areas as correct speech, poise and grooming.

Her advanced class in Walnut Creek will study these areas in greater depth and with greater emphasis. Miss Wright said that outside speakers will appear to figure, good grooming, and the proper use of color.

There are a limited number of openings in the class.

I.V. Teacher Will Star 'Oklahoma' Production

Jay Reynolds, Orinda school teacher and a professional vocalist who was featured on the Alan Young TV show, will play the lead role of "Curly" in the musical "Oklahoma" for the Oakland Theatre of Performing Arts.

Reynolds, a music major who received his A.B. from the College of Pacific, is on the faculty of the Inland Valley Intermediate School, teaching history and English. He has been associated with the Orinda Union School District for the past eight years.

The tall and handsome baritone, affectionately called the "Silver Fox" because of the rich color of his hair, is acknowledged to be one of the finest singers in show business.

A MASTER in the art of mike technique and voice control, Jay began his musical career with the celebrated Jack Fina orchestra as featured band vocalist and toured the country for several seasons before settling down in the East Bay to a somewhat more academic and regulated life with his wife and three youngsters.

Making his debut in the musical comedy field, Jay brings to the role of "Curley" a wealth of professional experience comprising several theatrical facets: radio, television, night club, concert and orchestra.

AMONG THE selections that the rugged and likable school teacher will sing in his portrayal of the ridin', ropin', stompin' cowboy, "Curly," are the favorites: "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top," "People Will Say We're in Love," "Pore Jud Is Daid," and the title song, "Oklahoma!"

It is reported that Jay has such a powerful voice—he was forced to discard his black, shell-rimmed glasses in favor of contact lenses because his high notes cracked the glass.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical will be produced by Mark Fidler and Raoul Pause' and directed by Daryl Bond.

An Orinda performance is also being planned for Miramonte High School. Club groups, organizations and churches who would be interested in sponsoring a local performance are requested to write the Oakland Theatre of Performing Arts, 4689 Telegraph Ave., Oakland 9—or, phone OL 5-2381 for further information.

CAREFUL DRIVERS

You may be a careful driver, but are you careful enough to allow for the possible carelessness of the other driver?

We live in a beautiful area. Don't litterbug. Let's keep our garden clean.

Research On Learning Starts

Seventy Miramonte High School 10th graders will participate in a research project to determine how children learn. The project is sponsored by the National Science Foundation and is being conducted by Dr. Arthur R. Jensen of the Center for Human Learning of the University of California.

Data have been gathered for students of various age levels in schools of Alameda County and elementary pupils in the Orinda area. The next step in the research will explore learning at the high school level.

The study will cause very little interruption of student regular school activity and is being coordinated with the help of Miramonte principal James A. Lewis.

Sheriff Will Address Civic Affairs Meeting

Sheriff Walter Young will discuss law enforcement problems in Contra Costa County, particularly those pertaining to the Orinda area, at a meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association Monday night.

Charles Legge, committee chairman, announced the land use committee will present a report on the possible uses of the unimproved land now owned by the association at this meeting.

Legge added that the public is invited to attend the meeting which will be held at the Orinda School, 26 Orinda Way, 8 p.m.

Newcomers Sections Form

The Moraga Newcomers Club has divided into interest sections and these groups will be meeting throughout the next month.

Those individuals interested in gardening met yesterday. The knitting group held its first get-together at the home of Mrs. Minnie Porter, 1123 Sanders, at 8 p.m. February 15. The bridge group held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ector R. Johnson, Jr., 9 Roberts Court, at noon Tuesday.

The Moraga Newcomers Club was formed to be strictly social, to make it possible for new residents to become better acquainted in the community.

Coffees are held each month to give individuals the opportunity of discovering the aims of the club. Further information concerning these coffees may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Vincent Keilman, DR 6-4803.

Fire Post Goes To Jay Stevens

The International Association of Fire Chiefs has appointed "Chief" Jay W. Stevens, of Orinda, chairman of its fire prevention committee.

The International Association of Fire Chiefs, founded on October 20, 1873, is a non-profit educational organization representing the leadership of the fire service in this country and Canada and 28 other countries abroad. Its 89th annual conference, to be held September 24-27 in Toronto, Ontario, will be attended by 2500 fire chiefs from all over the world.

DEPARTING JUNE 14, 1962

ITINERARY

Thursday, JUNE 14—SAN FRANCISCO: Depart International Airport via United Mainliner Jet Flight in the morning.
NEW YORK: Arrive International Airport early afternoon after a 4¾ hour non-stop flight. Depart International Airport in the evening via KLM ROYAL 8 Jet Flight.

Friday, JUNE 15 — AMSTERDAM: Arrive in The Netherlands after a 6 hour non-stop flight. Transfer to hotel. Remainder of day at leisure.

Saturday, JUNE 16 — AMSTERDAM: Morning city sightseeing tour includes a drive around old and modern Amsterdam along the canals (grachts), through the old Jewish Quarter, to visit the Rijksmuseum with its Rembrandt masterpieces, the Royal Palace, Rembrandt's House, the Old Church and the Exchange.

Afternoon excursion to VOLENDAM and MARKEN. Depart from the hotel to Volendam—the beautiful fishermen's village—and the Isle of Marken, with its inhabitants in their isolation maintaining their old costumes and customs; outward via Broek in Waterland visiting a cheese factory and back again via Mannikendom and Edam, the dead cities of the Zuyderzee, reminding us of the times of yore.

Sunday, JUNE 17 — COLOGNE: Morning at leisure in Amsterdam. Afternoon departure by private motorcoach through Southern Holland into Germany, driving via the industrial Ruhr area. Arrive at the Cathedral city of COLOGNE, situated picturesquely on the banks of the Rhine.

Monday, JUNE 18 — HEIDELBERG: Depart Cologne after a visit to the magnificent Cathedral. Proceed via Bonn, capital of Western Germany, to BAD NIEDERBREISIG for embarkation on the Rhine Steamer. Passing countless fairyland castles perched high on top of the vineyard-covered slopes rising steeply on each side of the river will make this trip up the Rhine an unforgettable event. Disembarking at ST. GOAR, the journey is continued by bus to the medieval University city of HEIDELBERG.

Tuesday, JUNE 19 — LUCERNE: Depart Heidelberg for a drive through the heart of the beautiful Black Forest to SCHAFFHAUSEN where the border is crossed into Switzerland. After a short stop to admire the majestic Rhine Falls, continue via ZURICH TO LUZERNE, picturesquely situated on Lake Lucerne.

Wednesday, JUNE 20—LUCERNE: Morning sightseeing drive through the city by motorcoach to the ancient Chapel Bridge dating from 1333 and the Dance of Death Bridge built in 1407 with interesting paintings hung on the beams; Thorvaldsen's unique Lion Monument dedicated to the Swiss Guard which defended the Tuileries during the French Revolution; the medieval walls enclosing one side of the city; and the 16th-Century Town Hall. The drive concludes with a trip through the surrounding hills for an entrancing view of the city, lake and mountains.

Thursday, JUNE 21 — INNSBRUCK: Depart Lucerne, continuing through the beautiful Alpine scenery to the little Principality of LIECHTENSTEIN. Luncheon is taken in Vaduz, the capital. Crossing into Austria, drive through the Austrian Tyrol area to its charming capital of INNSBRUCK.

Friday, JUNE 22 — VENICE: Depart Innsbruck across the Brenner Pass and then for a unique drive through the majestic Dolomites into Italy. After luncheon, which will be taken at CORTINA, descend into the Northern Plains, continuing to VENICE.

Saturday, JUNE 23 — VENICE: Morning city tour on foot to St. Mark's Square and the beautiful Church of St. Mark with its wealth of decoration, considered the most celebrated building in Venice; the magnificent 14th Century Doge's Palace including the Ducal Apartments; then a short walk to the Bridge of Sighs, Piombi Prisons and the Glass Works. Afternoon at leisure.

Sunday, JUNE 24 — FLORENCE: Depart Venice for PADUA, where the Basilica of St. Anthony will be visited before continuing to RAVENNA, famous for its mosaics and Theodorico's Mausoleum. Continue to FLORENCE.

Monday, JUNE 25 — FLORENCE: Morning city sightseeing passing the Church of St. Laurence, Medici Chapels containing many of Michelangelo's works, Cathedral and Baptistry, Giotto's Belfry. Then to Dante's House, the charming Or San Michele Church, Piazza della Signoria, the Fountain of Neptune, Loggia dei Lanzi, and the Old Palace. Afternoon at leisure.

Tuesday, JUNE 26 — ROME: Depart Florence in the morning driving along the delightful hill-town route, via AREZZO, PERUGGIA and ASSISI, to ROME.

Wednesday, JUNE 27 — ROME: Morning tour of the city includes visit to Quirinale Palace, former residence of the Italian Kings, Parliament House, Temple of Neptune, the Pantheon, Senate, the Palace of Justice, the Vatican and its museums and galleries, Pinacotheca, the famed Egyptian and Etruscan Museum, the Borgia Apartments, the Sistine Chapel, the Villa Borghese with the city's most fashionable promenades. Afternoon tour of city includes a visit to the Colosseum, ancient arena, Statue of Moses by Michelangelo, the Palatine Hill, the Triumphal Arch of Constantine, St. Paul's Gate, the Roman Forum, the Tomb of Keats and Shelley, Caius Cestius, the Basilica of St. Paul, Palace of the Caesars and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Thursday, JUNE 28 — ROME: Morning excursion of TIVOLI to visit Hadrian's Villa, Villa d'Este, the beautiful waterfalls and the ruins of the Temple of Vesta, Sybil and Hercules. Afternoon at leisure.

Friday and Saturday, JUNE 29-30 — ROME: At leisure. Optional side trip to NAPLES, POMPEII, AMALFI, SORRENTO and CAPRI will be arranged. For details, please see end of itinerary.

Sunday, JULY 1 — NICE: Depart Rome by first class rail in the morning. Arrive SAN REMO, beautiful city on the Italian Riviera, in the afternoon. Luncheon will be taken on train. Proceed on a leisurely drive along the Italian Riviera of Flowers to VENTIMIGLIA, where the border is crossed into France. Continue along the majestic Grande Corniche Road to NICE, capital of the French Riviera.

Monday, JULY 2 — NICE: Morning at leisure. Afternoon excursion to MONACO including visits to the Palace and the Exotique Gardens. Dinner will be taken in Monte Carlo. After dinner, visit the world's most famous Casino.

Tuesday, JULY 3 — LYON: Depart Nice along the French Riviera via CANNES through AVIGNON and up the beautiful Rhone Valley to LYON.

Wednesday, JULY 4 — PARIS: Depart Lyon northwest via MACON, AVALLON, AUXERRE and FONTAINBLEU to PARIS.

Thursday, JULY 5 — PARIS: Morning tour of modern Paris consists of a visit to the most modern areas of the city for which vast reconstruction plans were begun under Napoleon III and continue until today. Pass the Opera, largest theatre in the world, Napoleon's Tomb (visit), the Military Academy, the Eiffel Tower, Arc de Triomphe, Trocadero, Bois de Boulogne, Etoile, Concorde and Madeleine Church.

Afternoon tour of historic Paris passing through the oldest part of the city, the Latin Quarter with numerous universities and colleges, to Les Halles, the central market established by King Philip Auguste, the Louvre Museum, richest museum in existence, Senate, Sarbonne, Cluny, Place St. Michel. Visit the Cathedral of Notre Dame and Sacre Coeur in Montmartre.

Friday, JULY 6 — PARIS: At leisure.

Saturday, JULY 7 — PARIS: Morning excursion to VERSAILLES, visiting the Palace including the Royal Chambers, Royal Chapel and the Hall of Mirrors where the Peace Treaty was signed in 1919. Time will be available for a stroll through the gardens by Le Notre, enhanced by the numerous fountains and pools. Afternoon at leisure.

Children's Art Ass'n Meets Wed.

The Children's Cooperative Art Association will have Arne W. Randall, instructor in children's art, at Alameda State College, as its speaker at the next general membership meeting on Wednesday at 10 a.m. The subject of the talk will be "Children's Art in the Upper Grades," the field of emphasis that Randall has specialized in.

The meeting will be held at home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolfo Jacuzzi, 1063 Laurel Drive, Lafayette. Hostesses for the occasion will be mothers from the Cooperative Art classes at the Happy Valley School.

The meeting is open to all members and their guests. Others interested in attending may contact Mrs. Charles Foreman, who is in charge of the program, at YE 5-5211. The Cooperative Art Association is a non-profit organization that sponsors after-school art classes for children in Walnut Creek and Lafayette.

'Silver Cord' Rates Raves; Dramateurs Do It Again!

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Thoroughly despicable in her role as the mother, Mrs. Phelps, in the Dramateurs current production of The Silver Cord, Betty Gordon plays her part with such perfection it is hard to realize that off-stage she is a very likeable lady.

The Silver Cord, directed by Carl Rasmussen, opened last week at Lafayette Town Hall. The curtain will rise again on this polished performance of the Dramateurs this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and each weekend thereafter through March 17.

A three-act comedy by Sidney Howard, the play has a cast of only six—six men and women who take the "amateur" right out of Dramateur, so professional is their performance.

Betty Gordon's interpretation of the selfish, smother-loving mother is outstanding. She talks almost continuously throughout the scenes, never striking a false note in either tone or gesture. She is aptly supported by her two "sons," i.e., Don Black and Ray Howard who play the roles of David and Robert.

As vacillating Momma's boys, the two men arouse the disgust the audience, a genuine tribute to their acting ability. Judy Whitcomb who is cast as Christina, David's wife, is poise personified, rendering a flawless performance.

Vickie West as Hester has just the right touch of ingenue in her acting and gives a convincing touch to her scene of hysterical heartbreak.

Assistant directors Katie Genesy, Betty Reynolds and Ken Vargas are to be complimented for the top-notch performance of the actors.

Plaudits, too, to stage managers Joanne Leslie, Lanny Hertzverg and Ken Vargas, Junior Dramateurs who took over stage-managing duties for this production.

Reservations for performances of the Dramateurs may be obtained by calling CL 4-5241 days or CL 4-4419 evenings.

Language Lab Topic Of Discussion

How to use the language laboratory in the teaching of foreign languages and how to judge the effectiveness of instruction will be the chief subjects of the second and concluding session of a foreign language workshop tomorrow at the office of the county superintendent in Pleasant Hill.

More than 100 teachers attended the first session January 20.

Consultants will again be James Carrier, coordinator of foerign languages, Los Altos School District, and James Marshall, master pilot teacher in the Modern Language Development Center at Los Altos High School.

Both are consultants under the National Defense Education Act, funds from which support the workshop. Sponsors are Contra Costa County Schools and the State Department of Education.

The workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to noon, said Mrs. Mary Louise Nissen, consultant in secondary education.

It will cover teaching materials, evaluation of student progress, use of the language laboratory and of tape recorders and phonographs in the classroom and television instruction.

Alcoholic Employees Can Be Helped, Utility Company Doctor Explains

Sixty per cent of employees with a known alcohol problem can be rehabilitated through industrial programs, according to the medical director of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph.

Dr. R. S. Hockwald of San Francisco told the Contra Costa Council on Alcoholism that early deduction and prompt treatment are the key to helping employees with a drinking problem. He spoke at the second annual meeting.

"Both labor and management must share responsibility in dealing with alcoholism problems on the job," Hockwald said.

Absenteeism, accidents, inefficiency, and idle machines are some of the costs that business must bear unless it faces up to finding and helping workers with alcoholic illness, he said.

According to Dr. Hockwald, management needs to develop a clear-cut policy toward handling of alcoholic employees and then see that everyone understands it.

Setting up a program to rehabilitate problem drinkers does not require a great expense by companies, but it does mean that top management has developed a carefully organized plan.

Hockwald offered three ways to get employees to accept a program for problem drinkers: (1) Stress that alcoholism is a disease; (2) separate treatment from the job; and (3) keep the program alive and vital.

Eleven new members were nominated to the board of the Contra Costa Council on Alcoholism at the meeting.

They are Mrs. Janet Voeks of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Elaine Ingles of Walnut Creek, Dr. Harry Misch of Pleasant Hill, Genevieve Beach of Lafayette, Dr. Robert Pinger of Concord, Mrs. Maxine Johnson of Martinez, Judge Betsy Rahn, Walnut Creek; Frank Leib, Martinez; Robert Bahl, Concord; Dr. Albert Greenberg, Richmond; and Superior Court Judge Norman Gregg, of Richmond.

The council operates two information centers for problem drinkers at 105 Astrid Drive, Pleasant Hill, and 3200 Macdonald Avenue, Richmond.

Local Youth Draws Sun Edit Cartoon

Contributing his artistic talents to The Sun's editorial page this week is Gene Shehorn.

Shehorn is a senior at Pleasant Hill High School.

His first editorial cartoon for The Sun concerns youngsters and firearms.

In a recent contest at Pleasant Hill High, Shehorn's political cartoons won first prize.

He is planning to continue study in this field at the college level following his graduation in June.

More of his cartoons will be seen on the editorial page in the weeks to come.

Epilepsy Is Workshop Topic

Epilepsy and its problems will be one of 14 subjects presented for discussion when Contra Costa Council for Exceptional Children and the county schools department sponsor the second annual workshop for children with special needs on March 8 at the Creative Arts Building in Pittsburg. "Keys to Better Understanding" will be the theme of the meetings which are open to the public from 5 to 7 p.m.

Teaching Swimming By Groups

A former coach of the San Francisco Olympic Club will demonstrate group instruction in swimming, under the auspices of the county unit of the California Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, in Pleasant Hill February 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Rudloff will deal with methods and techniques of group instruction at the covered pool of the Pleasant Hill Recreation Department, 147 Gregory Lane.

He is head of the health and physical education department of Sonoma State Colleg at Cotati.

Dr. Rudloff's discussion will cover class organization, progression in the skills of swimming and specific methods instructors may use.

Byron Cross, president of the sponsoring organization, said all school and recreation personnel are invited to attend.

Double Talk Chapter Plans Dinner Meet

A dinner meeting of Double Talk Chapter, Mother of Twins Club, will be held Wednesday at Roots, on Clayton Road in Concord.

A talk on "Cancer in Women" will be given by Dr. M. L. Lipton of Antioch. He will also show a film and answer questions.

Plans for a membership tea to be held in March will be discussed.

All members are requested to make their reservations by Monday with Mrs. R. H. Bambach or Mrs. W. C. Janes.

St. Mary's Hosts Educators for Annual Seminar

Teachers from public and parochial schools will discuss the responsibilities of the American teacher in the 1960s on the St. Mary's College campus tomorrow for the sixth annual educational seminar sponsored by the St. Mary's Teachers' Guild.

Mario Menesini, president of the St. Mary's Teachers' Guild, announced the specific topics will be "School Law, Teacher's Rights and Liabilities," "The Responsibility and Opportunity for Continued Personal and Professional Growth," and "The Responsibility to Assume Civic and Political Leadership."

Speakers during the day will be Joseph Sheaff, superintendent of schools, Orinda; Leon Rovetta, University of Pacific; teachers Bill Bouton and Jim Hurley representing the CTA and AFT; and Thomas Coll, supervisor third district.

Following their addresses, the speakers will conduct two seminar sessions for further discussion and questions.

A social hour and dinner will complete the day's activities.

Teachers from Bay Area public and parochial schools are invited to the seminar.

The guild is composed of St. Mary's College alumni who are engaged in the field of education, both teachers and administrators.

AN ENTIRE range of "cold diseases," involving body sensitivity to lo wtemperatures, has been identified by American Cancer Society researchers in the University of Texas medical school.

Two Youths Are Top Appointees For U.S. Service Academies

An Almo youth has been named principal appointee to the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs and a Danville youth is principal appointee to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Gary Rodrigues of 161 La Serena Avenue, Alamo, has been named top appointee to the Air Force Academy by Congressman John Baldwin.

Robert A. Fisher of Danville, who is now attending the USMA Preparatory School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, is the top appointee to West Point.

THERE ARE six local youths who are alternates to the Air Force Academy, as follows:

Douglas McKinley of 332 Forest Lane, Alamo, first alternate; Steven Mullin of 14 Cascade Lane, Orinda, second alternate; William Hilger of 31 Oakwood Road, Orinda, fourth alternate; William Sharon of 761 Moraga Road, Lafayette, fifth alternate; Richard Bowles of 102 Orchard Road, Orinda, seventh alternate; Larry Gabie of 1818 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek, eighth alternate.

Gordon Wiser of Walnut Creek, now attending the Military Academy Preparatory School, Fort Belvoir, Virginia, is first alternate to West Point.

Two local youths are alternaes to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

THEY ARE Peter Ginsberg of 4 Southwood Court, Orinda, first alternate; Weller Phillips of 173 Cragmont Drive, Walnut Creek, second alternate.

Retired Officers Organize

The Retired Officers Association is organizing a local chapter.

Eligible for membership are retired commissioned and warrant officers, men and women, of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Public Health Service and Coast Geodetic Survey.

A meeting was held last week at Kellogg's Restaurant, Walnut Creek.

Chapter officers will be elected February 15 in Concord, when a permanent headquarters will be chosen.

Attorney General Mosk's Orinda Talk Is Feb. 16

Attorney General Stanley Mosk will appear in Orinda on February 16 in the midst of sharp controversy over the most effective means for fighting communism.

Mosk has denounced the School of Anti-Communism of Dr. Fred Schwarz as a "fly-by-night operation," and Dr. Schwarz and his supporters have attacked Mosk in turn.

Having accepted an invitation to Orinda before his attack on Dr. Schwarz' "school," Mosk finds his Contra Costa County appearance is now attracting much more attention than would normally accompany the appearance of the attorney general of California.

MOSK WILL appear at Inland Valley School at 8 p.m. February 16, under auspices of the Orinda-Moraga Democratic Club in cooperation with other Democratic Clubs in Contra Costa County.

He is expected to discuss a wide variety of subjects in his talk.

Drive carefully along our winding roads. Children walk and play there, and sometimes they are hard to see.

Volunteers Are Needed to Do Clerical Work

The Volunteer Bureau is looking for typists who can give a few hours a week on a regular basis to any of several community service groups. Half a day per week is the usual stint and among those needing office aides are Mental Health in Lafayette.

Come to Walnut Creek Dollar Days...

Dollar Days Are Here at Last

The ever-popular Walnut Creek February "Dollar Days" will offer big savings today through Saturday.

Greatly-reduced prices on thousands of leading items have been set for third annual event, according to George Webster, president of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce.

"Our February Dollar Days last year received a tremendous response, and we know that the merchants' policy of offering real values will make this year even bigger," said Webster.

SPONSOR of the event is the chamber's retail trade committee.

Webster said, "February is always considered a good shopping month by budget-conscious families, and our Dollar Days make this the best time of all.

"There will be bargains in big items, and in small items.

"Special window signs will announce some of the specials and inside each store, the Dollar Day atmosphere will be apparent," Webster continued.

THE BROADWAY Shopping Center will be fully participating in the bargain event, according to B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Chamber President Webster said, "Walnut Creek merchants have always believed they have to make a real effort on Dollar Days to make this a big-turnover event, and they have proved in the first two February events they can do it."

Family shopping will be made easier by the fact that most local stores, including all Broadway stores, are open Friday night, and some Broadway stores are also open Thursday night.

DOLLAR DAYS have arrived in Walnut Creek and will run through Saturday! The annual February event will feature really drastic price reductions for thousands of items large and small. Shown here are: Wilson Gengler at left, manager of Davidson and Licht, Bruce Lee and a typical dollar day decoration. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

SCIENTISTS AT the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dallas, Texas, have reported to the American Cancer Society that most patients with advanced cancer produce antibodies capable of reacting against their own cancer cells. This research has raised hopes for the eventual development of an anti-cancer vaccine.

We live in a beautiful area. Don't litterbug. Let's keep our garden clean.

'Y' Plans Campaign

The Mt. Diablo YMCA will hold its 1962 sustaining membership drive March 1-15, under the leadership of Burnell Semrau.

Irvin Deutscher, president, said Semrau will lead a force of over 200 campaigners seeking $18,000 to support the YMCA's youth work during the year.

Semrau has been active in the campaign for several years and last year was elected treasurer of the association.

Semrau said he is obtaining additional leadership for this drive which helps to supplement funds received from the United Crusade to help carry on the work of the "Y".

This supplemental effort is limited to members and friends of the association.

Board members will help with initial gifts effort slated to get underway three weeks prior to the campaign.

Semrau said present plans call for an initial gifts goal of $6000 with the regular field forces shooting for the other $12,000.

Are you aware of what is happening in your community? Knowledge of the local situation helps you to make wise decision when the time comes, whether it be at the polls or at your local improvement association meeting.

Court Clerk Job Is Open

Persons looking for a responsible municipal court position are urged to apply for "Clerk of the Court I." These positions are located in Walnut Creek, Concord and San Pablo courts. The pay is $556-$676 per month.

Applicants must be high school graduates and have four years of legal procedure experience preferably in a county clerk's office, a justice, municipal or superior court.

Interested persons are urged to contact the Contra Costa County Civil Service Department, Room 229, Hall of Records, Martinez.

Applications must be submitted by next Friday.

Families With Servicemen Are Sought

An attempt to contact families where the husband or son has been called to active duty in the armed services is being made by Mrs. Betty Amos, home service chairman of the Mt. Diablo Chapter, American Red Cross.

She said social casework is offered on a 24-hour basis to all active service families.

Personal problems are handled confidentially.

If illness or a family situation indicated need for emergency leave, the request can be expedited through the Red Cross Home Service, for decision my military authority.

Financial assistance is available for families that have a temporary financial problem due to governmental allotments being delayed or an unexpected serious illness.

One Group Not Raising Auto Rates

The California State Automobile Association has announced it is not raising its auto insurance rates despite an increase announced yesterday by the National Automobile Underwriters Association and the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, which establish advisory rates for some 200 insurance companies.

"We are able to hold the line on insurance rates, despite a general increase in claims costs throughout the industry," said Edwin S. Moore, executive vice-president of the CSAA and its inter-insurance bureau.

"This is because our insurance is available only to safe-driving members of our association, whose number is now in excess of 575,000 in northern and central California and the state of Nevada.

"This is also because our insured members' driving records are above average, indicating that they take seriously their responsibilities for driving safely.

Churchwomen Complete Plans for Day of Prayer

Mrs. Eugene Sill, United Church Women chairman of Christian World Missions Department and general chairman of the World Day of Prayer announces that arrangements have been completed in Central Contra Costa County for the 76th observance of the World Day of Prayer on the first Friday of Lent, March 9.

Scheduling of services will be: 1 p.m., Hillcrest Congregational Church, 404 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill, with Miss Georgia Harkness, well known writer and speaker, offering the meditation. In Martinez at the same hour the service will be held at the United Church of Christ (Congregational), Court and Susana streets.

Evening service to be at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, 2248 Salvio Street, Concord, featuring as speaker the Reverend Bruce Jones of the First Christian Church in Concord.

In more than 145 countries, on continents and islands, millions of people around the globe in varying climates, clothing, languages and meeting places will join the growing spiritual fellowship. All center their worship around the same theme "For God So Loved the World," pray the same prayers, sing many of the same hymns and deepen the spirit of the oneness of our Christian faith.

The offerings work through the National Council of Churches division of Home Missions to help recruit, train and supervise staff and volunteers for many and varied types of services that include migrant ministry, church and community in transition, Indian Americans, Alaska transition, launched through the Division of Foreign Missions the offerings help prepare men and women of many nations for service in home and community in support of 12 Christian colleges, friendship with some 40,000 foreign students entering this country each year.

Christian literature such as books and magazines helpful to Asian, African and Latin-American countries in developing Christian home and family life, child care, better food, sanitation, health, devotional material and Bible lessons are included. Gifts to the Literacy and Writing Centre in Africa and a new program of Chinese literature.

All these are projects made through the World Day of Prayer offerings.

Don't Smoke Says Health Council

The School Health Council of Contra Costa has endorsed the American Cancer Society's anti-smoking program and urged that it be added to the curriculums of all schools in the county.

The council was formed last fall to promote the health and safety of the county's 120,000 school age children.

Sponsored jointly by the county health department and the county superintendent of schools, it represents some 20 concerned organizations.

THE COUNCIL has also elected a permanent chairman, Laurence Sheppard of Antioch, who is a director of special services for the Unified School District.

Secretary elected is Mrs. Edythe Connolly of Pleasant Hill, executive director of the Contra Costa County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Adoption of the American Cancer Society's school education program marks the first official action of the school health council to implement its objectives of better health for county school children, according to Byron Cross, who has been protem chairman.

Cross is consultant for health, physical education, and recreation in Contra Costa schools.

MRS. R. L. HOLT, Jr. of Concord, chairman of the cancer society's schools' education program, has placed the "To Smoke or Not to Smoke" program in 69 intermediate and high schools throughout the county last year.

Dr. E. Kleona Rigney of the county health department hailed the cancer society's program of cancer education as designed for youngsters at ages when their critical decisions of whether to smoke or not are made.

Freshmen Oriented On a Boat

Diablo Valley College's student council conducted a day of orientation for the college's new incoming freshmen last Saturday.

The new students, accompanied by representatives of the student council, journeyed to Jack London Square where they boarded a bay cruise boat and toured the bay.

While on the boat student activities workshops were conducted by members of the student council.

The students returned to the college for a dinner in the Diablo Room, and then attended a basketball game between Diablo Valley and Vallejo College. They concluded the day with a dance in their honor.

Your Garden

Have You Considered a Small Family Orchard?

If your garden needs a new look, there's no time like the present to administer it. The fact that it's a brand new year in itself should be excuse enough to make the change.

And don't be overly cautious. If a major change is called for, roll up your sleeves and have at it. Redesigning the garden does just as much to lift the spirits as redecorating your home.

The foundation planting—that strip of plant material which ties your house to your garden—is one of the likeliest candidates for improvement.

MANY foundation plantings you see are overgrown, shapeless masses of greenery. Instead of suggesting an easy transition from the abrupt lines of architecture to the contours of your landscape, such foundation plantings appear as formidable barrier between the two.

There is usually no course left when the foundation is overgrown but to uproot the old and plant anew. Few shrubs that are so completely outsize can ever be pruned back to your complete satisfaction.

If you think some might be saved, however, have a local member of the California Association of Nurserymen drop by and give you his opinion.

IN MOST cases it is unlikely that any professional know-how has gone into the designing of the landscape. And contrary to popular opinion, the smaller the garden, the more important the design, so don't hesitate to seek help before you replant.

Easy access to the garden is of the utmost importance and should be considered in your planning. A pleasantly planted parking strip at the front of your home and an entrance that looks inviting are two more facets of the landscape which, like the foundation planting, are apt to need renewal.

It's not important that they all be started now, but you do have the excuse and, no doubt, more time than you will later on. So why wait?

It's Time to Plant Bare Root Trees

Shade trees should be planted now, not later when you think of their shade. Bare root stock is easier to handle and will make a fast start in the spring when it gets warmer.

Prune roses, grapes, berries and fruit trees. Wait until next month to prune fuchsias.

Gladiolus may be planted anytime between now and early summer. Make several plantings.

Lawns should be cut shorter in winter than in summer. Mow them preferably when the grass is dry.

Plant Deciduous Shrubs, Trees During February

All deciduous shrubs and trees should be planted before the end of the month in most areas of California.

Spray peaches and nectarines with a control for leaf curl. Spray roses when you've finished pruning.

All the popular vegetables are available as flat-grown seedlings in CAN nurseries. Celery, broccoli, lettuce, chard, among others are available.

Flowering quinces will be blooming in nurseries this month. Best chooose them in bloom.

Jewish Welfare Group Convenes

A campaign meeting for the Jewish Welfare Federation of Alameda and Contra Costa counties was held January 31 at the Piedmont home of attorney Leslie Kessler.

Discussed were organizational recruitment of workers, assignment of divisions, the campaign goal for 1962 and plans for the March 13 kickoff dinner at the Claremont.

Judge Rahn, Neilsen to Attend GSA Celebration

Judge Betsy FitzGerald Rahn and Contra Costa County Supervisor Mel Nielsen will be among the community leaders and friends of Girl Scouting who will gather at the Golden Anniversary Luncheon to be held at the Sheraton Palace Hotel in San Francisco, February 15.

The luncheon is one of the gala events marking the fiftieth anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Mrs. Rahn and Nielsen will be the guests of Mrs. Kenneth Hallstone of Lafayette, president of the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council and Mrs. Wallace C. Bonner of Walnut Creek, first vice-president of the council. They will hear the Honorable Alice K. Leopold speak on "Youth's Challenge Today."

Mrs. Leopold has just returned from South America and will have first hand views of what faces youth in our changing world. From her experienc as a Undersecretary of Labor, Mrs. Leopold has gained a knowledge of the forces in modern society. She is being welcomed as a new resident of the Bay Area since leaving her former home in Washington, D.C.

Flying from St. Louis to greet Mrs. Leopold will be Mrs. Holton Price, vice-president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. and chairman of the National Development Committee which is sponsoring the luncheon. This committee is responsible for the funding of many outstanding program ventures now being undertaken nationally and internationally by the Girl Scouts, such as the work with the Migrant Children Program, handicapped, and the Arts Caravan. Mrs. Price has been working with the local committees for the luncheon. Mrs. Leicester Williams of Lafayette, a member of the Region XII Girl Scout Committee, has also been active in the planning.

Peacock Named Sloane Manager

Merv Peacock of 1127 Garden Lane, Lafayette, has been named manager of W. and J. Sloane home furnishings, Walnut Creek, it was announced.

Peacock replaces Hal Stuart, who is being transferred to the Sloane Sacramento store.

Peacock has been in the home furnishings buisness for about 20 years, and before coming to Walnut Creek, was buyer for the City of Paris, San Francisco, for 12 years.

Born in Oakland, he attended Oakland schools and Armstrong Business College in Berkeley, also served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

BURROS don't like mints, but the reception for the District 2 Campfire Mint Sale, running for two more weeks, is expected to be wild! The burro is "Pancho" and the girls are Nancy Banning of Pleasant Hill, at left, and Rondell Bowman of Walnut Creek. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Miss Parker Named Goldman's Buyer

Bruce Goldman, president of Goldman's stores, has announced the appointment of Miss Lois Parker as buyer of a newly expanded accessory division of Goldman's five fashion stores.

Miss Parker has been dress buyer with Goldman's for several years.

School Kids By Hundred Thousands

Contra Costa County's school population is larger than the entire county population of 1940, and by 1975 it will be almost as large as the total county population of 1950.

Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent, said that figures projected on the basis of recent population predictions of the State Department of Finance give Contra Costa County a school enrollment of 135,983 by 1965—166,750 by 1970—and 204,270 by 1975.

This is for grades from kindergarten through high school. Junior college was not included because of its recent history of irregular growth rates.

School population of 109,617 was 26.8 per cent of the total population of 409,030 reported by the 1960 United States census.

The same factor was applied to the finance department's projected population figures of 507,400 for the county in 1965, 622,200 in 1970 and 762,200 in 1975.

The 1940 population was 100,450 and the 1950 population, 298,984.

From 109,617 in October, 1960, K-12 enrollment increased to 114,047 in October, 1961, Marchus added.

Enrollment of Contra Costa Junior College District at the two campuses, Contra Costa and Diablo Valley, was 4899 last fall, making the total in all grades 118,946.

Getting Industry Calls For Planning--Linscheid

Although Contra Costa County has a stable industrial complex of 300 plants and the desired resources to attract more industry, it should develop advance planning against any unforeseen changes in the industrial pictures, according to Supervisor Edmund A. Linscheid.

This, according to Linscheid, should take the form of an inventory of the county's total resources as the basis for a well planned economic program designed to keep the county in proper balance.

Linscheid drew his conclusions in a report to the board of supervisors on community development workshops of the National Association of County Officials held at Phoenix, Arizona.

Linscheid was accompanied by J. T. Ritch, manager of the Contra Costa County Development Association.

They attended luncheons and panel discussions at which more than a score of experts in the field of community and industrial development were speakers.

Unforeseen changes, Linscheid said, could include automation, changes in public buying habits, loss of large defense contracts and other factors.

He pointed out that one county mentioned at the conference has 83 per cent of its industrial work force employed in a single defense industry and another county recently suffered the impact of a loss of approximately 15,000 jobs in the curtailment of operations by a large defense plant.

Linscheid said several authoritative speakers, including high governmental officials, stressed the growing need for close cooperation between counties and cities in dealing with such problems as air and water pollution, transit, water supply, highways, development of recreational and cultural facilities and other common problems.

metropolitan spread, rapid

"We learned that more than 3000 cities, counties and metropolitan areas are now competing vigorously for new industries," Linscheid said.

"The lesson from this is that counties like Contra Costa must continue to maintain a favorable business climate in order to keep the industry we have and to attract new plants and expansions."

Linscheid said he has asked the development association to make a study of feasibility and cost of preparing a master economic blueprint for the county as suggested by speakers at the workshop.

Buchanan Utility Work Will Begin

The board of supervisors has approved contract drawings and specifications for the extension of the existing water and sewer lines in Buchanan Field.

The construction consists of the installation of a sewage lift station and about 600 feet of 8-inch sanitary sewer and 500 feet of 8-inch asbestos-cement pressure water lines.

The extension is an element of the water and sewage service systems necessary for complete development of the field.

This extension has been designed to serve the proposed Patterson building.

Plans are underway to continue this extension so that development proposed for the very near future can be realized.

Cancer Society Wants to Go Out of Business

The American Cancer Society is trying to put itself "out of business" as soon as possible, John L. Cooley, county chairman for the society's April educational and fund-raising drive, told volunteer chairmen Wednesday at Mike Lynn's Restaurant, Orinda.

"We who are volunteering with the American Cancer Society in its programs of research, education and service are completely convinced of the need and effectiveness of the society's efforts," said Cooley, who retired recently after devoting his entire life to performing or directing research.

"We are sure that cures for the various types of cancer will be found through research just as surely as cures and preventives of many other diseases have already been found, and we are proud of the very low proportion of contributed funds

Sidewalks—Will County Help?

Installation of sidewalks for students en route to schools in suburbia is still on a self-help basis.

Contrary to the impression in some quarters, the $10,000 recently appropriated by the board of supervisors was not intended for sidewalk construction and wouldn't begin to cover the cost of all installations requested if it were, according to County Superintendent Floyd Marchus.

"What the board and the advisory student protection committee did intend was to extend a helping hand to groups of citizens bent on solving their own problems," said Marchus.

Mrs. Rose Hawkins of Lafayette, the committee's chairman, said, "The residents of the area are supposed to do part of the work. Our policy explicitly states that 'when neighborhood acceptance and local participation is present,' the county will help."

Under these do-it-yourself conditions, the public works department is authorized to help clear right of way, perform minor preparatory work within the right of way and make available to the sponsoring citizens' group whatever salvage materials are on hand for use in laying pathways.

Such materials, according to Mark L. Kermit, county traffic engineer, might consist of surplus sweepings of surfacing materials and culvert lengths.

The policy also provides the following:

The student protection committee and the public works department will make a joint field review of specific school pedestrian problems upon written request by a local parent organization and the school district.

Usually the review is undertaken by Mrs. Hawkins, Kermit and Paul E. Kilkenny, county maintenance engineer.

Public works will provide technical assistance, advice, investigation, etc.

A file of street widening projects is to be maintained for inclusion in the annual public works capital outlay budget.

Where city and county are both involved in a pedestrian problem, the county will cooperate. The local city policy and standards will prevail, said Kermit.

Women Plan Ranch Breakfast

Contra Costa Farm Bureau women's officers, committees, group leaders and county home advisors met recently at Farm Bureau Hall, Concord.

The Lafayette unit with Mrs. C. R. Crouch as group leader, was host.

Mrs. Lorens Foard of Danville, county chairman, called for a report on the famous annual FBW "Ranch Breakfast" January 24 at 8 a.m., Farm Bureau Hall, Concord.

Mrs. Foard discussed the annual dinner, dance and entertainment at the new Elk's Club, Pittsburg, February 17.
